Torpedoed in Canadian Waters

After hours on this life raft, these survivors of one of the three ships sunk in the St. Lawrence River by an enemy submarine are located by a rescue ship. Many other men on rafts or lifeboats missed their rescuers along the coast when the swift river current carried them out to sea. In some places villagers along the shore could see the survivors in the distance clinging to rafts and debris. The villagers were ready with blankets, medical supplies and stimulants when the survivors were brought ashore.

Day Bombings In Ruhr By R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—British bombers raided Germany in daylight this afternoon.

Lone bombers protected by clouds dropped bombs on separate missions in the industrial Ruhr, other parts of northwest Germany and in the Netherlands. It was stated tonight.

Fighter activity was restricted by bad weather, but some patrols attacked railway yards and other objectives along the French coast.

Vancouver Flier Killed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Sgt. Pilot J. Patrick Richardson of Vancouver has been killed in action with the R.A.F. overseas. It was learned in word received here today. His father, Major William A. Richardson, M.C., is officer commanding an artillery training centre in Ontario.

U.S. Trucks in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—An order has been sent to the cabinet which when passed will have the effect of permitting truck shipments of United States goods through Canadian bond, it was understood today.

3 Nazis Downed

LONDON (CP)—A launch used to rescue airmen from the English Channel was sunk Wednesday by German fighter planes which attacked a flotilla of the small boats off the coast of France, the Admiralty and Air Ministry announced tonight.

Other boats were damaged, two men were killed and several were wounded, but the boats succeeded in rescuing two R.A.F. men from the sea.

Three German planes were shot down and another was damaged.

Store Staffs May Aid Apple Pickers

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Kelowna merchants will close their stores Mondays and Thursdays during the harvest period if such a move is found necessary, to permit all their employees to assist in bringing in the McIntosh apple crop during its peak.

Hanson Urges Secret Sitting

OTTAWA (CP)—Conservative House Leader Hanson this afternoon supported a move in the House of Commons for a secret sitting, and said "we should know what happened, not on two, but on three occasions."

He urged an opportunity for a full discussion of what had happened in the St. Lawrence area.

No Reply to Laval

WASHINGTON (AP)—A note in which the Vichy government protested against the assignment of United States military representatives to Gen. Charles de Gaulle, a reliable source said this afternoon, did not call for any action on the part of the U.S. government. (Item page 9.)

10 Ships a Month

VANCOUVER (CP)—H. R. MacMillan, president of Wartime Merchant Shipping Ltd., told a Vancouver Board of Trade meeting here today that Canada's record in shipbuilding represents no mean effort.

He said that Canada will produce 65 ships by December next. She has now delivered about 25 ships ready for sea, and has hit what the speaker termed "a uniform rate," by sending 10 warships monthly down the ways since June.

Coldwell to Use Drew Material

OTTAWA (CP)—The debate on the Hongkong commission report probably will come up in the House of Commons next week and M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. House leader, said today he proposed to make the material contained in the letter of Lieut. Col. George Drew to Prime Minister Mackenzie King the basis of his speech in that debate.

The Prime Minister Wednesday night refused to table the letter.

REQUEST HANSON NOT TO RESIGN

OTTAWA (CP)—Conservative House Leader Hanson today acceded to the request of a Conservative caucus that he continue as leader of the Conservative members in the House of Commons.

The request was made to him by a 24-hour caucus held under chairmanship of John R. MacNicol, Con., Toronto-Davenport. The announcement was made by A. C. Casselman, Con., Grenville-Dundas, Ont.

"The members unanimously endorsed the Conservative House leadership of Mr. Hanson and asked him to continue," Mr. Casselman said.

Agent Got $431,463

WASHINGTON (AP)—Horace Ward of Washington, a war contract commission agent, acknowledged earnings of $431,463 in an 18-month period today, and said he had entertained coastguard and naval officers with whom he did business because "I'm socially inclined."

P.S.—Wednesday was St. Swithin's.

BOMBER CRASHES

SPOKANE (AP)—A heavy bomber based at Geiger Field crashed Wednesday night near Post Falls, Idaho, 20 miles east of Spokane, killing the entire crew of five men, the public relations office at Geiger Field reported today. Names of the men were withheld.

The crash, in rugged country, occurred at 3:08 a.m., the Geiger Field press officer said. Names of the casualties will not be released until next of kin have been notified, he said.

Blame It on St. Swithin

The weatherman said because of the censorship he could not say a word about what had gone wrong, beyond suggesting we look up St. Swithin.

According to the books, Swithin was England's greatest weather expert, so great, indeed, that the church in 861 A.D. made him a saint and set aside a day for him. The arrangement seems to have been, according to lore, that if it rains on his sainted day it will rain for 40 days thereafter.

P.S.—Wednesday was St. Swithin's.

Businessmen in Court

No Evidence for Month In Conspiracy Charges

Court action against Leonard James Simmons, former quartermaster, Provincial Police, and three Victoria businessmen, J. G. Simpson, G. H. Hall and Joseph A. Walsh, each charged with Simmons of conspiracy to defraud in alleged dealings on police supplies, was adjourned in City Police Court today following elections by two and reservation of election by the other two. The cases will be remanded from week to week until Aug. 6 when a date will be fixed.

Through P. J. Sinnott, Mr. Simmons asked trial by a higher court on each charge when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall today. Bail of $2,000 and one surety was fixed for the accused on one charge, the magistrate saying he would require Simmons' own recognizance only on the other three.

J. G. Simpson, managing director of James Maynard Ltd., charged with conspiracy to defraud the King in presenting invoices for boots and shoes reportedly never delivered to the police stores, also elected trial by a higher court through counsel D. M. Gordon.

H. S. Pringle, appearing for George Henry Hall, managing director of Hall and Co. Ltd., wholesale drygoods and manufacturers, asked an adjournment before election. He would be prepared to elect next week, he said. Mr. Hall is charged with conspiracy to defraud in the sum of $2,400 for 200 pairs of police pants which the prosecution alleges were not delivered to the police.

In the absence of Joseph McKenna, counsel for Joseph A. Walsh, managing director of William Cathcart Ltd., Harold Beck with also asked an adjournment before election. The conspiracy charge against Mr. Walsh also involves shoe invoices.

W. C. Moresby, K.C., and J. B. Clearihue, K.C., appeared for the Crown.

NOT READY TO PROCEED

Mr. Moresby told the court the Crown would be satisfied with any bail the magistrate decided to fix on the accused. He said the Crown was not ready to proceed with the case and suggested the week to week adjournment until Magistrate Hall had completed his vacation. That would delay preliminary hearings until August.

Mr. Sinnott on behalf of Mr. Simmons sought an early start on the preliminary hearing and asked that a pre-emptory date be fixed. His application was declined. Mr. Sinnott, speaking to the question of bail, said it might be months before the preliminary hearings started. Magistrate Hall told him it would not be a matter of months.

Mr. Moresby explained the Crown needed time in which to study certain exhibits. Magistrate Hall replied if the cases were stood over for four weeks the Crown should be able to proceed.

Ontario to Probe Escape of Nazi

TORONTO (CP)—Attorney-General Conant of Ontario, at the request of the North Bay city council, today directed Inspector William H. Loughheed of the criminal investigation department of the Ontario provincial police to inquire into North Bay police department operations in connection with the escape of a German prisoner of war.

The prisoner, Egbert Brosig, escaped from a northern Ontario prison camp and spent several hours in North Bay June 16, but was not apprehended. The North Bay council protested the manner in which the case was handled by an officer of the department who had received a telephone "tip" of the prisoner's presence. The council also condemned the findings of the police commission which exonerated the department.

Brosig was recaptured in New York several days later.

Gas Attack Expected On This Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An air attack on the Pacific coast, including the use of gas, "may be expected at any time," Lt. Col. E. K. Merritt, U.S. army air force, told 350 industrialists today.

Col. Merritt, western district plant protection officer for the air forces, addressed a school of emergency protection for Los Angeles industries and public buildings. He warned: "The enemy certainly is not going to let our tremendous aircraft production continue on the coast without trying to put a crimp in it."

"An air attack on the coast may be expected at any time. The army has every reason to believe that gas will be used."

No Night Prowling

FREDERICTON, N.B. (CP)—Fredericton's new curfew law became effective Wednesday night. Boys and girls under 16 now are required to be off the streets at 10 p.m., unless accompanied by their parents or guardians.

Reds Holding Out On Voronezh Line

NAZI SPEARHEADS ADVANCE—Dark lines on map indicate direction of three-pronged German drive. Reds still hold Voronezh to the north, have abandoned Bugochar, centre. Shaded portion of map shows whence Nazi attack started.

Associated Press
A German foothold some 250 miles inside the northern Caucasus and another on the northernmost rim were announced today by the Russians while the sanguinary struggle for Voronezh on the north flank of the enemy's menacing bulge along the Don River attained a new degree of ferocity.

Since launching their latest effort in Russia June 28, the Germans have won effective control of an additional 25,000 square miles of Russian territory although not all Russian forces therein have been mopped up. Pressing behind two spearheads eastward from this bulge, the Germans threaten to crash on through to the Stalingrad elbow of the Volga River, less than 200 miles away, effectively splitting the Caucasus and easing the way for direct penetrations of the oil-bearing region farther south.

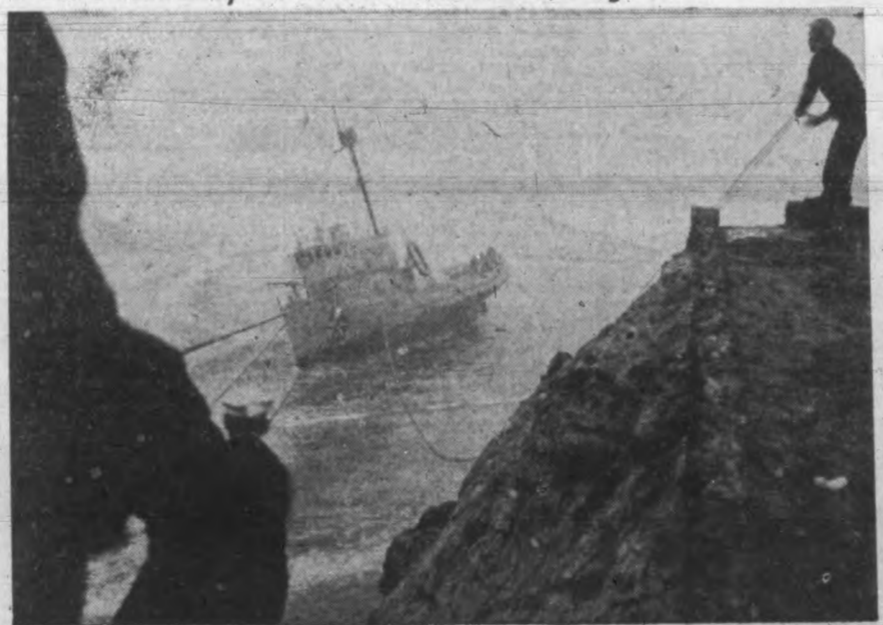

The deepest Axis penetrations into the big bend of the Don River, where it curves close to the Volga, were at German-won Boguchar, 130 miles southeast of Voronezh, and southeast of Millerovo, where the new Russian stand presumably is along the Kaltvia River, 125 miles north-east of Rostov. The danger to Stalingrad, guardian of the lower Volga, and Rostov, rail gate to the Caucasus, grew hourly with a large part of the important Don River basin in the hands of the invaders. Russian dispatches said the most critical situation of the war had developed there on the vast treeless steppes—a plain barren of natural obstacles and perfect for tank operations.

There were indications the fierce upsurge of fighting was spreading over more hundreds of miles of the battlefield. Dispatches from the Bryansk area, 220 miles southwest of Moscow and 230 miles northwest of Voronezh, said a "more serious struggle was impending. No details on operations there at the juncture of the old battle-line and the new Axis bulge to the southeast were given. It was the first word from the Bryansk sector in 10 days.

At Voronezh, key to the German twin threat to the road to the Volga and the way south in the Caucasus, German troops were hurling tank reinforcements across the Don into the battle area and rushing up anti-tank batteries to meet the Red army's armored counterattacks.

13 Safe as Navy Boat Runs Ashore in Fog

Aground in the sand near San Francisco's Golden Gate, an 83-foot navy patrol boat lies on the beach after its crew of three officers and 10 men were brought ashore by breeches buoy. Fog was given as the cause of the grounding near the Seal Rock "graveyard" where the freighter Ohioan and the ill-fated tanker Frank Buck ran aground. Note the breeches buoy near the boat's bow.

Action like this is all in the day's work for navy men. One of the crew members comes ashore in a breeches buoy. All hands were safe. Note the heavy fog in which the rescue was made.

Truro Threatened By Conflagration

TRURO, N.S. (CP)—Fire today broke out in a large warehouse at the rear of Spencer Brothers and Turner Limited woodworking plant and every piece of fire-fighting equipment in the town was called out to fight the blaze.

A brisk wind fanned the flames, which blazed high above the building almost an hour after the fire was reported. Dense smoke rose with the flames.

Telephone lines running near the building were burned out and communication with New Brunswick and the west was disrupted. The warehouse was constructed only recently.

The flames spread from the warehouse to an adjoining shaving mill also owned by Spencer Brothers, and it was apparent the fire was the biggest Truro has suffered in years.

Victory for Spitfires

Canadian Fliers Beat F.W.'s Over Channel

By WILLIAM STEWART

LONDON (CP)—An R.C.A.F. Spitfire squadron fought a furious 25-minute action over the English Channel Wednesday with superior numbers of the vaunted Focke-Wulf 190's. One of the enemy machines was destroyed and another probably destroyed.

The Canadians, commanded by Sqdn. Ldr. Bob Morrow of Toronto, were off duty when air-sea rescue craft at work eight miles off the French coast near Le Touquet asked for protection. The squadron volunteered for the job.

After they had located the boats and were circling about them, the Spitfires were attacked by the fast, new Nazi planes.

"I never put in such a crowded 25 minutes in all my life," admitted Morrow, who has seen plenty of combat.

"It was probably the longest-continued action Spitfires have fought with Focke-Wulf 190's," he said. "There was no let-up for one moment. When we came out all the boys were wringing wet with perspiration, but were tickled pink. They certainly did a job."

Flt-Lt. D. G. Malloy of Toronto, former instructor at Uplands, Ottawa, said the Canadians were "flying practically on deck when the FW's suddenly broke the cloud above."

"They kept diving at us in twos and fours without pause," he added. "There were at least 16 and possibly more but we got plenty of good squirts at them. I saw one crash into the sea and am inclined to think we got another."

He recalled seeing a Nazi aircraft skimming through the water like a motorboat when he was able for one moment to cast a quick glance at the water. A few moments later, when he looked again, only foamy wake was visible.

So many of the dozen Canadians got their cannon on the Nazis during the engagement that all of them will share in the destruction of the only enemy recorded as destroyed and the one probable unless cameras prove an individual credit.

Flt. Sgt. N. A. Keene of White Rock, B.C., drew smoke from a third enemy. Sgt. O. C. McGraw of Kirkland Lake, Ont., brought back souvenirs of the flight—bullet holes in the wings of his plane.

'Hold Warships' Vichy Orders

VICHY (AP)—The Vichy French government announced today that it had officially informed the United States that the proposal by President Roosevelt to move interned French warships from Alexandria to Martinique had to be "rejected as contrary to the honor and interests of France."

The French note, sent July 13 to Washington concluded: "By exposing these dismantled warships to attack by British forces President Roosevelt would assume a responsibility of extreme gravity which the French government must once more underscore."

The announcement said Vice-Admiral Rene Goffroy, commander of the squadron, had been ordered never to allow the ships to "fall into foreign hands."

Urge Nation-wide Study

Most Housing Lack Found Permanent

OTTAWA (CP)—A nation-wide campaign supported by local committees, to make surplus living accommodation available to homeless families was urged in the report of a subcommittee of the House of Commons committee on war expenditures tabled in the House of Commons this afternoon.

The subcommittee found more than a half of the housing shortage of a permanent character.

Headed by Hughes Cleaver, Liberal, Halton, Ont., the group undertook a study of the work of Wartime Housing Ltd., a government company organized to construct homes in areas where there was not enough accommodation for war industry workers.

The subcommittee said the proposed campaign should be undertaken by volunteer workers.

Other recommendations are: 1. A Plan of loans for financing conversion of old single-family homes into two and three-family apartments on a basis similar to the home improvement plan. Loans should be repayable in installments over a period of at least five years.

SURVEY URGED

2. A survey to establish the number of permanent homes which can be built without endangering a postwar surplus in urban centres where a serious housing situation exists. The subcommittee said the shortage could be met by building permanent homes under the National Housing Act where it could be demonstrated that by the use of building materials nonessential for war purposes, or by the use of building lots already serviced by local improvements, an actual saving in labor and essential war materials could be effected through the construction of permanent homes rather than temporary structures built by Wartime Housing.

3. Wartime Housing Limited should study the wisdom of erecting temporary homes of either standard or ready-cut construction rather than semiprefabricated construction now used, so that the unit cost might be reduced. This study would also involve consideration of the use of scattered vacant lots already serviced by local improvements and the awarding of building contracts in groups of less than 50 houses in order to enlist the services of small home-building contractors.

4. In localities such as Nobel, Ont., where there is no possibility of use being made of houses now being built, after the war, modification in the house plans, should be made to reduce their cost to the limit, in line with proper living accommodation. Houses in such localities will have practically no salvage value, the committee said.

5. Dependents of soldiers overseas, civil servants and Canadian workmen who are indirectly servicing war workers should be provided with low-cost housing accommodation which they urgently require.

6. Wherever title to land is held by Wartime Housing Ltd., or can be acquired, sales of houses built by the government company should be made now to occupants desiring to buy them.

The subcommittee recommended there be further study of staff houses built by wartime housing, and this activity should be dealt with in a final report.

CITE CONGESTION

The report said that the movement of labor from normal residences to centres of war industry had caused serious congestion. Many instances were given of 8, 9 and 10 families living in 8, 9 and 10-room houses, with one room per family and one bathroom per house.

Since incorporation in February, 1941, Wartime Housing had received approval of building projects totaling 11,842 houses and 85 staff houses and other special buildings costing estimated at $48,021,761, under which 5,485 houses and 72 staff houses and other buildings had been completed at a cost of $33,448,715 and now are occupied.

The report praised the work of local voluntary committees which undertook the management of buildings. At the end of April, nearly $500,000 had been collected in monthly rentals, with a rental loss written off at $317.

The subcommittee found from tenants that the heating costs of Wartime Housing buildings were low and the accommodation was healthful. Isolated instances were found where defects in construction required correction.

"The subcommittee has not been able to obtain any satisfactory evidence as to the salvage value of the houses at the conclusion of the war," said the report.

"Undoubtedly, heavy loss will occur when the problem of salvaging these wartime houses arises."

The general policy was that all the wartime housing buildings would be torn down or moved away within six months after the close of hostilities. The reason for this policy was that the present housing problem was not a permanent difficulty.

MAY BECOME SLUMS

The report said that some mayors of city municipalities appearing before the subcommittee expressed strong views that the houses should be removed at the end of the war as they were likely to become slum areas.

The subcommittee found, however, that most of the houses were so constructed that a slum condition would not necessarily follow if the houses were built on permanent foundations with cellar accommodation.

Building sites have not been bought where suitable lots could be leased at nominal rentals, and such leases terminate six months after the end of hostilities. The average cost of local improvements installation was $705 a lot, and the subcommittee recommended that some provision be made to secure substantial reimbursement to the government of the expenditure.

The committee group found that more than one-half of the present housing shortage is of a permanent character and should be met by the construction of permanent houses under the National Housing Act.

Riot at Funeral

Argentine Crowd Shouts Tributes As Ortiz Buried

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Strong police guards fought and repulsed citizens who sought to join the funeral cortege of former President Roberto Ortiz in front of Buenos Aires Cathedral today, but the crowd braved a rainstorm to turn the occasion into a fervent prodemocratic demonstration.

As the procession formed and the coffin was placed on a gun carriage, about 500 persons surged forward, with the evident intention of joining the procession for the man whose death removed one of the hopes of democratic forces in this country.

Police repelled them in a series of fist fights, and the procession got under way while the crowd followed, shouting, "Ortiz," and "Viva la Democracia."

POLICE CHARGE

Halfway to the cemetery, mounted police charged into a crowd of several hundred demonstrators. Two policemen were unhorsed and two civilians were injured and removed in ambulances.

Ortiz died Wednesday, three weeks after he had resigned the presidency because of ill-health, leaving office without having realized his ambition of assuring Argentina's allegiance to democratic ideals.

The crowd today, growing steadily as the funeral cortege moved along the streets, cheered for democracy and shouted, "We loved him," and "They killed him."

The government now is headed by President Castillo, elevated to the post by Congress on the resignation of Ortiz.

Hitler's Transport Weak

Nazi's Soviet Gain May Bring His Fall

By DE WITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

Bad as the Russian military position is—and the danger of a Nazi break through on the southern front is grave—we have here a paradoxical case in which the great gains Hitler is making, coupled with their cost in blood and material, are likely to contribute heavily to his undoing, provided the Allies can create a diversion by establishing that second front.

The Nazi leader's success depends on blitzkrieg, that is, on his ability to smash the Red army in the crucial approaches to the Caucasus in a short time. This is so for two reasons:

First, the Nazi lines of communication already are badly extended, and the farther the invaders drive the more confused will become their already seriously complicated transport problem.

WEAKENING EFFORT

Second, the supreme effort Hitler is making for a quick killing is costing so many of his best troops, and wrecking so much equipment, that he cannot indefinitely stand the strain. He will have to slow down and in the not distant future he will be fit game for a smashing Russian counter-offensive.

In short, so long as the Russians can continue their present fierce resistance, and effect withdrawals to fresh positions without breaking their line, the territory which they abandon may prove to be the trap which will catch Hitler. He has achieved much already, but he has a long, hard road to travel. Stalingrad is close to 200 miles farther east; Astrakhan is about double that distance.

The Nazi chief now is far in advance of the supply lines which he established during the winter, and he is up among the Russian wide-gauge railways over which the narrow gauge German trains couldn't run, even if the roads still were serviceable. But the Fuehrer's troubles go back farther than that.

LET'S RAILWAYS GO

Louis Lochner, Associated Press chief of bureau in Berlin, who now is home after five months' internment in Germany, has disclosed that Hitler allowed the railway transportation of the country to go to pot because he was banking on the great military highways he was building. Well, the highways would have been grand if the Fuehrer had won the war overnight as he expected, but he didn't.

Now Hitler's home transport is in a bad way and is rapidly growing worse. Thus he hasn't even proper facilities to start his supplies out of Germany for the front, to say nothing of handling them in Russia. And to say nothing of moving the endless trains of wounded back from the battle zone.

Battle of Egypt

Enemy Loses At El Alamein, Gains at Coast

CAIRO (AP)—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Axis forces were giving ground on the central front west of El Alamein, but British headquarters today said the Germans had achieved some gains in the coastal zone and have "practically succeeded" in re-establishing themselves at Tel el Eisa.

As the result of an attack launched before dawn Wednesday, British troops pushed forward in the central sector to secure objectives at the western end of a ridge south of El Alamein, the communique said.

"Prisoners were taken, but their numbers are not known," the bulletin added.

The assault apparently was launched to relieve pressure on Australian forces holding recently won positions at Tel el Eisa—the "Hill of Jesus"—and evidently was at least partly successful, for the communique announced troops continued to hold high ground in that area.

Enemy forces which succeeded in occupying positions at Tel el Eisa Tuesday night were heavily bombarded all day Wednesday by British artillery and planes and a number of Axis tanks were knocked out of action, the bulletin reported.

British air squadrons attacked the enemy "in force" and scored hits on aircraft on the ground, gun positions, motor trucks and a headquarters in the battle area.

BOMB BENGASI, TOBRUK

Wide-ranging R.A.F. bombers also struck heavily Wednesday night at the important Axis supply base at Bengazi and Tobruk, far west of the fighting zone, headquarters declared.

"Enemy bombing increased a little, but our intercepting fighters shot down seven enemy aircraft and damaged others," the communique said.

The Australians who are holding the northern end of the line occupied Tel el Eisa last Satur-

ENEMY CLAIMS

ROME (From Italian Broadcasts, AP)—Violent British assaults on the middle of the Axis Egyptian line were admitted today by the Italian high command, but it claimed they were stopped and counterattacks were launched immediately.

"We have taken more than 1,200 prisoners and have destroyed a good number of armored vehicles," a communique added.

The Italian high command also claimed a British cruiser had been damaged in the Mediterranean by hits from Italian and German warplanes. (This claim lacks confirmation.)

SAFeway Homemakers' Guide

★ How to save time and trouble in shopping ★ A list of money-saving foods to check ★ A timely story with a moral

This is a lesson in shopping that's worth reading

Because the war has made "time" more precious than ever before, it has become practically a patriotic duty to streamline our daily schedules as much as possible. The best way to save time is to cut shopping trips down by planning menus and market lists a week in advance. These suggestions from the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau should help you in your planning.

Perishability is the best guide for dividing up your purchases. Staples like flour, salt, potatoes, canned and packaged goods can be bought weeks in advance. It's wise to replace them as soon as they're used, so you won't be caught short.

Foods that will keep 3 to 4 days without spoiling include most meats; vegetables like carrots, turnips, beets, parsnips, squash, egg plant, corn, tomatoes; most under-ripe fruits and the like.

The most perishable foods; those which will keep only a day or two, are fresh vegetables and fruits; fresh fish, chicken, and ground meats; dairy products; bread, cake, pastry.

To get your money's worth in vitamins and minerals, use fresh leafy and green vegetables the same day you buy them. As soon as you get them home, wash them quickly in a small amount of water, drain, and keep them in a covered container in the refrigerator until just ready to use.

Save extra-heavy purchases for times when you'll have your car or can share a neighbor's, lightening your bundles on other days. For example, enough citrus fruits, bacon, coffee, butter, and eggs can be bought all in one trip to last a week or more.

Canadian Escapees Returning

Nazi Prison Guards Fear Hitler Going to Lose

LONDON (CP)—Four French Canadian ecclesiastics have arrived in Britain, months after their individual escapes from Nazi-guarded prison camps near Paris.

All members of "La congregation des pretres de Ste. Marie de Tinchebray," they are Rev. Adrian Brault of Chateaugay, Que.; Rev. Georges H. Gagnon of St. Georges de Beauce, Que.; Roland Masse of St. Sylvere, Que., and Ernest Bourgault of St. Brieux, S. E. Masse and Bourgault have not yet received their holy orders.

Although their escapes from the big internment camp were made separately, the two priests and their student associates who were interned together July 7, 1940, with about 200 other Canadians, were reunited shortly before reaching Britain. All hope to return to their Canadian homes soon.

MAINTAIN SECRECY

Their lips were sealed about the manner in which they got away, for fear of reprisals against those who helped them.

Father Brault said quietly: "The Boches are barbarians. I know what they would do."

Twenty-three-year-old Bourgault was the first to make a getaway a year ago. Father Gagnon escaped last January, Father Brault in February and Masse, a 24-year-old student, a few weeks ago.

Acting as spokesman for the group, Father Brault, who is 35 years old, recalled that the first few months of internment were "very hard—there was not much food. There was only one toilet, and a constant queue of prisoners before it. There were 2,000 in St. Denis."

"We lived in barracks, 16 men in a room built for eight. There were only two windows and they were closed day and night."

MANY STARVING

Father Gagnon, who is grey-haired at the age of 32, said "on the way out I saw an old man faint in a food queue in one city, and it is a fact that children and the old are dying for want of food."

Father Brault said the morale of the Nazi guards "dropped remarkably" between the early days of their internment and last winter. "It seemed to start with the Russian war," he said.

"By that time discipline had become so loose the guards were smoking on duty, and even telling the prisoners Hitler was going to lose the war because he had too many countries to hold."

The abrupt halt of what Churchill called "the brotherly flow of materials" to individuals and unauthorized groups represents another notch in the tightening of the British belt.

It will not necessarily mean hardship, however, since the principal effect will be on shipments of luxuries and nonessential supplies which formerly supplemented the food and clothing rations of many of the British people.

Gift Shipments To Britain Reduced

LONDON (CP)—In a letter to President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill has asked that the flow of individual gifts and supplies from the United States to Britain be diminished to save shipping space for war materials.

To this end the Foreign Office announced that hereafter cargo space would be allocated only to direct consignments through the American Red Cross to the British Red Cross and Women's Voluntary Services, and through the British War Relief Society to the Personal Service League.

The abrupt halt of what Churchill called "the brotherly flow of materials" to individuals and unauthorized groups represents another notch in the tightening of the British belt.

It will not necessarily mean hardship, however, since the principal effect will be on shipments of luxuries and nonessential supplies which formerly supplemented the food and clothing rations of many of the British people.

Coldwell Scores Hepburn, Distilleries

Ottawa May Give Lead To Temperance Campaign

OTTAWA (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. House leader, Wednesday named the Ontario government under Premier Mitchell Hepburn and "multi-millionaires controlling Canadian Distilleries," as possible obstacles to federal action for curtailment of liquor consumption in Canada.

Speaking in the Commons, Mr. Coldwell said the Ontario premier's associations with the liquor business were "pretty well known all across the country."

If any province stood in the way of taking the business out of its present hands "that provincial government should be exposed and denounced."

Mr. Coldwell said the whole traffic should be taken out of the hands of private interests and operated under strict government supervision from manufacture to sale.

MEMBERS URGE ACTION

Pleas for federal action to curtail the liquor traffic were made by Mrs. Cora Casselman, Liberal, Edmonton East; Conservative House Leader Hanson, John Diefenbaker, Conservative, Lake Centre, Sask.; Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster; Rev. Daniel McIvor, Liberal, Fort William, Ont.; Howard Green, Conservative, Vancouver South; J. W. Noseworthy, C.C.F., York South, Ont., and T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto-Broadview.

PROVINCIAL PROBLEM

Finance Minister Iisley repeated statements he had made in earlier discussions, that this was a provincial government responsibility and the provinces should bear it.

He could not see that the government was justified in invading the provincial jurisdiction, but promised to give consideration to a suggestion from some members that the federal administration sponsor a national temperance campaign.

CALLED UNFORTUNATE

Mr. Coldwell said it was true and "unfortunate from many points of view," that the provincial governments were largely interested in the liquor business.

He added: "The manufacturers and distillers of liquor are the people who are making huge fortunes out of it."

"I can think of one fortune in this country which began in a little junk yard in Regina during the last war. Its foundations were laid through one of the most pernicious bootlegging businesses this country has ever seen, with hi-jacking and similar practices of every description."

"Today the people who came out of that little junk yard, who corrupted the morals of a vast number of Canadian citizens, are multi-millionaires, controlling Canadian Distilleries, one of the richest groups of people in this country."

"That fortune originated in a Regina junk yard and in the making brought demoralization of many people, both in the province where I live (Saskatchewan) and across the line in the United States, where they ran liquor successfully for years, in violation of every law and every decency."

DISTURBED BY INCIDENTS

"It makes me shudder when I see the names of those people in honored places in this country, even sitting at the table of the King and Queen when they came to Canada."

"In my opinion the only way to handle this business is to take it out of the hands of these people... If a provincial government stands in the way at the present time that provincial government should be exposed and denounced."

"I think I know one provincial government which will stand in the way, and I will name it—the provincial government of Ontario, under the leadership of the present premier of this province, whose associations with the liquor business are pretty well known all across this country."

DUAL RESPONSIBILITY
Mr. Iisley said he thought it would be "a most serious step for this government to be responsible for instituting a system of dual responsibility" for control of the liquor traffic in Canada.

"I think the moment we start that we are in for plenty of trouble. Everything that goes wrong is then the fault of the other jurisdiction..."

"If we were to take direct curtailment measures the body being curtailed would be the crown in the right of the provinces... In every province except Prince Edward Island."

"What we are being asked to do is step right into the field of another jurisdiction being actively exercised at the moment and saying to that jurisdiction 'you are not doing your duty—this is what you will do hereafter.'"

"I do not think this government is the guardian of the morals of the people to any greater extent than the governments of the provinces and I have never been able to see why pressure converged upon this government.

"The people who are in the business—who have a monopoly of the sale and who are sovereign to the same extent that this government is, have all the powers in the world in this particular matter."

"If they are exercising them wrongly, why do they not exercise them properly? It is part of the war effort of the provinces. It is something they should do, it is their duty and they should discharge it."

"I think that speeches such as we have heard here are all to the good as a manifestation of a very considerable popular sentiment in the country, but do not try to push this government into a position which the provinces now occupy."

INFORMAL DISCUSSIONS

Mr. Diefenbaker asked if the provinces had been approached by the Dominion Government with a view to securing their cooperation in a campaign to reduce sale and consumption of liquor.

Mr. Iisley said "I have discussed the matter with representatives of more than one province, but in no formal way have we told the provinces what their duty was."

Personally, Mr. Iisley said, he would rather see the people spending their money on war savings certificates than on liquor.

Mr. Green asked: "Why not tell them so?"

Mr. Iisley replied: "I have told them that. I have told them for the last one or two years to curtail their expenditures. Some have and some have not."

MUCH WASTE

Mrs. Casselman said there is "no factor that contributes more to the suffering, degradation and sorrow of the individual and the nation" than the intemperate use of intoxicants.

The government should do something to cut down "this waste of human and material resources" involved in the increasing consumption of intoxicants.

She had thought of bringing in a resolution along this line but had realized the difficulty in meeting the problem by specific legislation.

"It would be difficult to keep a man sober by legislation—or a woman either," she said, adding: "Drinking is a preliminary step along the primrose path that leads to disease and destruction."

She suggested a label be placed on every bottle of liquor with directions for using, advising small quantities well-spaced, eating and taking vitamin tablets while drinking, and describing the diseases resulting from intemperance.

Such a set of directions might be used as advertising to offset the alluring liquor advertisements appearing in publications, she said.

Conservative House leader Hanson asked the minister if he had given further consideration to similar arguments advanced in the House Monday.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government had passed many overriding orders-in-council under authority of the War Measures Act. If it would not use that power to deal with the liquor traffic he suggested it might at least organize a national campaign to curb liquor consumption.

HEPBURN'S REPLY
TORONTO (CP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn, commenting on a statement made in the House of Commons by M. J. Coldwell, said:

"The clear insinuation by Mr. Coldwell is that I am tied up with the liquor traffic. I never had, nor have I now, any direct or indirect interest in any brewery, winery, distillery or hotel."

"I have long since, as my intimate friends know, joined the ranks of teetotalers. I am opposed to prohibition by coercive methods. Rather, I prefer a campaign of temperance education and an appeal to people to exercise restraint in their personal drinking."

Premier Hepburn had declined at first to "dignify with an answer" the "unprincipled attack" made on him by Mr. Coldwell.

German Coaster Sunk By R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—Bad flying weather over the continent kept the R.A.F. from raiding Germany Wednesday night for the second night in succession.

Two hundred fighters Wednesday and early Wednesday night, however, made ground-hugging attacks along 200 miles of the French coast, blazing with machine guns and cannon at troops, freight cars, a gas works, wireless stations and anti-aircraft batteries.

In another sweep, British fighters sank a small enemy coaster off the Netherlands coast Wednesday night.

Four British planes are missing, the Air Ministry said, while three German fighters were destroyed.

An Industry Threatened

MR. R. W. MAYHEW, M.P., HAS TOLD the Chamber of Commerce in a letter to its president that "the government is not going to force the City of Victoria to build ships if it does not want to." And when our representative in the House of Commons adds that the shortage of labor in this community "is due entirely to the shortage of houses," he is bluntly warning us of the consequences that will inevitably result unless wiser counsels shall immediately prevail. This is no time for village politics. Those members of the City Council who are holding up the contract with Wartime Housing Limited are not only contributing to the delay of shipping production; they are, unwittingly or unwittingly, creating an impression abroad that this community is only remotely concerned with its industrial future.

Anybody who has even a nodding acquaintance with the steel industry in this country and in the United States, incidentally, knows only too well that the allocation of this vitally-crucial commodity is carried out with a hitherto unheard-of meticulousness. Hundreds of communities are clamoring for more of it to enable them to increase output of the ships of which the United Nations stand in dire need. On the slightest suggestion that steel, anywhere, is virtually going begging, the pressure on the authorities responsible for its distribution is immediately intensified. As Mr. Mayhew points out, "the steel that is now available for Victoria will be given to other yards," unless the deadlocked housing controversy is promptly resolved.

Disturbing Disclosure

LAST NIGHT'S ISSUE OF THIS NEWS- paper contained a Gallup Poll revelation that only two out of every three Canadians know the name of their representative in the House of Commons at Ottawa. This is not a pleasant reflection on the interest which the average individual takes in the conduct of public business. But supposing the test had been widened to inquire how many seats comprise the lower legislative chamber and how many senators sit in the upper House; what result would that have produced? And how many could give the number of seats at present allotted to each province? We wonder.

It should not be necessary at this stage to repeat that the system of government which Hitler seeks to fasten on the world thrives on apathy. Not that Canadian soil is suitable for the planting of totalitarian seeds. It is nevertheless true that an attitude of mind exists in this Dominion which might respond to a type of administration that is repugnant to the great majority of the Canadian people. We mean specifically that element which is shaping its thinking in terms of a return to the status quo after the defeat of the Axis. For the most part, such people find it convenient to blame the servants of the public—who try to make their contribution to the common weal in the halls of Parliament—for everything that does not go according to their own narrow concept of individual responsibility.

We venture to suggest that some of the loudest critics of government at any time are those who are as unfamiliar with the terms of the British North America Act as they are with Einstein's theory of relativity. The latest Gallup Poll's disclosure would seem to reflect a substantial lack of appreciation of the manner in which the business of the general public is conducted in this country. The man or woman who does not exercise the dearest franchise is a potential slave to reactionary influences.

Fancy That
WITH DUE AND APPROPRIATE solemnity the morning paper has told us why Mr. Arthur Meighen failed to win a seat in the House of Commons last February—"because the Liberals of South York did not desire his presence at Ottawa." Fancy the Colonist thinking of that one!

And how did Mr. Meighen explain it on the morning after the contest? He said he was "defeated by a partnership of the Dominion government and the C.C.F.," with the government dictating and directing the whole character of the campaign. Promptly replied the C.C.F., whose candidate won in a walk-away, with the statement that "the strategy and policies of the entire campaign were directed by members of the Ontario C.C.F. executive in consultation with the South York C.C.F. campaign committee."

The Montreal Gazette, the bible of one or two western editorial critics of the King government, preferred to be realistic when it called Mr. Meighen's defeat the "most lethal repudiation the Conservatives have ever suffered."

Some newspapers and some people in Canada are finding it extremely difficult to swallow the inescapable fact that the political philosophy for which Mr. Meighen stands is as dead as the dodo. Toryism will find no place in the new order that will follow a United Nations victory. And it is high time many who call themselves Liberals ceased their political jay-walking.

Attempting to treat with Vichy on the curious assumption that it is free must be a great deal like courting a Siamese twin.

Too High

ATTENTION IS DIRECTED BY THE British Columbia Board of Health to the industrial accident rate in this province. The board reports that the present situation here is not only "not very encouraging," but in fact constitutes "a public health problem of first magnitude."

During the last five years, metal mining has shown a downward curve on the chart representing the number of workers' deaths per million tons of ore mined and coal mining, after a death-ratio peak in 1938, has shown a sharp drop. However, in our greatest employment industry, that of logging and lumbering, operations are producing an increasing number of fatal accidents as well as nonfatal injuries. For the industry as a whole, in five years the death ratio per billion board feet of timber logged has risen from just over 18 to more than 20. Yet in the midst of this increase, one logging firm decreased its accident rate 35 per cent, another firm 30 per cent. These two cases are pointed to as answering persons who say that accidents are inseparable from such an industry as logging and that as long as such industries continue to flourish we must be prepared to accept a high ratio of injuries.

Analysis by the Workmen's Compensation Board of the causes of accidents reported in this province, indicates that more than 90 per cent of them should be classified as avoidable. With respect to mining accidents, the Minister of Mines in his report says that "ordinary care would have averted most of these fatalities as few were due to abnormal or dangerous conditions, but were due to a dangerous method of doing routine work." Statements of safety workers generally support the view that accidents, fatal or otherwise, should not be considered as an inevitable by-product of industry, but that they can and should be decreased enormously.

With the current pressure of emergency work, often carried on with inexperience help, there may arise a tendency to relax ordinary caution. As the Board of Health seeks to emphasize, it is extremely necessary that such an attitude should not become widespread. Unless the accident prevention program is developed to meet the added difficulties imposed by the emergency, the necessary speeding up of industry will be impeded. More than ever, now in time of war with its demands on manpower and production, accident prevention is vital.

Paper Supply

IN SPITE OF ALL PREDICTIONS, NO paper shortage has developed in Canada and none seems likely to occur in the immediate future. An analysis of the situation shows why the fear of a deficiency developed and why it proved groundless.

A few months ago, the United States government placed a large order for writing stationery to be used by the war offices and the armed forces. Since the government wanted immediate delivery, schedules were disrupted and gave the impression that a shortage was pending. However, once the demand had been met, the market again became orderly. Apprehension of shortages also led to a great deal of anticipatory buying which in itself created an impression of a shortage.

The conservation of old paper has had its effect on the paperboard industry. In the United States, about 85 per cent of paperboard is made out of waste paper. Obviously, with increased collections of old paper, the supply of paperboard increased. This occurred at a time when the demand for this commodity on the part of the durable consumers' goods industries decreased sharply. In regard to fine paper, the industry has been adversely affected by the great curtailment in the use of this commodity for advertising purposes.

There is also no shortage of newsprint and the mills are now working far below capacity. In fact, shipments of newsprint in May represented 72 per cent of capacity as compared with 76.8 per cent in May a year ago. During the first five months of 1942, Canada produced 1,415,000 tons as compared with 1,347,000 tons during the same period last year. Shipments rose from 1,326,000 tons during the first five months of 1941 to 1,370,000 during the corresponding period of 1942. All indications are, therefore, that there is no threatened shortage of paper in the immediate future and that the supply is sufficient to meet all visible requirements.

THE CIVILIAN IS JUST 'OUT'

From Ottawa Journal
"I am trying to save the nation, not gasoline and rubber," said President Roosevelt sharply at a press conference in answer to reporters' questions concerning the interests of civilians. He added that it might become necessary, although he hoped not, to requisition all privately-owned rubber tires in the United States.

That is to say, the comforts and luxuries, and even the actual needs, of civilians must be disregarded at the insistent call of war production and the imperative demands of the fighting fronts. The war has first call upon the country's manpower and womanpower, upon its wealth, its goods, its industrial capacity—civilian life can take what remains.

And this is the only policy under which the free nations can remain free. We may dislike the status to which the civilian is reduced in total war, but it is infinitely preferable to his status under German or Japanese occupation.

The civilian pays taxes to the limit of his capacity, accepts such restrictions as are necessary that the armed services may be maintained at the maximum strength, keeps alive at least the ashes of the home fires. That is his role in this war in which nothing less than our survival is at stake.

Bruce Hutchison

THE SWALLOWS

ON THE DAY THAT the British Army was falling back in Egypt and the Suez Canal seemed to be in danger and, with it, the whole future of the United Nations war program, my neighbor came over here to tell me a sad story. His look showed a deep depression and I assumed that, as an old soldier of the last war, he was alarmed at the terrible prospects of this one. But in the midst of all this confusion and danger, while the future of the free world trembled in the balance, my neighbor wanted to tell me about the four baby swallows which had perished in their nest in the recent heat wave.

He said he blamed himself, for if he had thought about it, he could have rigged up some shade for them in the eaves of his house, where they lay in the nest. Instead, he had forgotten them for a day or two and when he looked again they were dead. He gave them proper burial and has felt very sad ever since.

This shows you how we are built, we peculiar creatures, to understand small things, and to feel small pities, while large things and great pities are beyond us, mercifully; for if we could feel them as acutely as we feel the death of four baby swallows we could not stand the strain of this war for another day. Yet I suppose it is necessary for a few fellows on our side to understand the whole picture as Hitler understands it, if we are to win. Such a person is Hanson Baldwin, military editor of the New York Times, who, among the erring prophets of the war, has done a far better job than the average.

"STRATEGY FOR VICTORY"

IN HIS NEW BOOK, "Strategy for Victory," Mr. Baldwin presents a picture of the world at war which affects you very much like a cold shower bath. He is a man who works in facts and figures only and makes no pretence at understanding politics, which often defy both. Generally our view of the world is about as clear and stable as a suet pudding and Mr. Baldwin's book of facts and figures hits us with the impact of a heavy shell.

I shall not bore you with any facts and figures—for this column positively guarantees to remain free and clean of them always—but I can give you the general result of his survey of the world. He finds, in a word, that the job of winning the war is about ten times as great as most of the democratic world has begun to imagine. And the chance of losing it as about ten times as great as we have ever admitted to ourselves.

When you read the figures of German strength, when you realize, for example, that there are at least 250 equipped German divisions and perhaps 70 partially equipped divisions in the British Empire and that the United States has less than 40—then you begin to see the outlines of the problem and also the importance of the Russians and Chinese, who are the only people on our side with large organized manpower.

YEARS YET

ADDING UP THE FACTS of manpower, of production, of transportation, of geography, there can be only one conclusion to Mr. Baldwin's survey. It is that the war will not be won for years, barring a sudden breakdown among our enemies. To count on such a breakdown would be madness; though it came in the last war within six months of a British Empire conference which had agreed that the war could not possibly be won for 18 months at earliest.

Yet how many people have conditioned their minds to several more years of war? Everyone says he expects it. Everyone talks boldly and in a broad sweep. But the actual fact is that in Canada today we are living better than we ever did in our lives on the average, while the United States is in the midst of the greatest boom in history. No stranger coming to this continent today would imagine we had prepared ourselves to years of war and years of privation; and certainly no stranger would believe that we were approaching the tail-end of many of our supplies, that 1,000,000 automobiles a month will leave the roads from now on for lack of tires, that there will be no more gadgets made for the civilian population, that we are doomed to live a hard, lean life, if the war lasts long.

The truth, surely, is that the people of North America have been secretly expecting the war to be over within a year or two. Unconsciously they have been judging its length by the four years of the last war. In their hearts they have expected the miracle of a German breakdown before conditions become really hard here.

There is no sign of such a breakdown. There is nothing in the military situation or the production picture to suggest that the war can be won for two years at the very earliest. It may be, of course, through factors not yet visible. But any sensible man who faced comparable problems in his own life would not bank on a rich uncle dying and leaving him a fortune. He would prepare for hard times. We in the democracies have been expecting a rich uncle to die and, for all our progress in production, we still have not realized the grim facts of the war and what it will require of us.

These know-alls who correct you are especially disgusting when they are right.

ANTI-TOOTH DECAY VITAMIN

From Science Service
Synthetic vitamin K, taken in sugar candy or chewing gum, may be the means of preventing tooth decay. Dr. L. S. Fostick, Dr. O. E. Fancher and Dr. J. C. Calandra, of Northwestern University Dental School suggest.

Vitamin K, in both synthetic and natural forms, is known as the anti-bleeding vitamin and has in the few years since its discovery saved many lives threatened by hemorrhage.

Its anti-tooth-decay action depends on the fact that it prevents the formation of acid believed responsible for tooth decay. In test-tube experiments a tiny amount (one milligram) of synthetic vitamin K in about three ounces of saliva and 10 per cent sugar prevented acid formation for four hours. Measurements of the acidity of decayed spots on teeth in human mouths showed that the same concentration of synthetic vitamin K prevented acid formation, although without the vitamin, the acidity of the decayed spots increased greatly in as little as three minutes.

The anti-carious action of the vitamin is not an antiseptic one, since synthetic vitamin K in the concentrations used in these experiments will not stop the growth of bacteria. It acts by preventing formation of phosphoglyceric acid from the hexose phosphates and thus indirectly by preventing lactic acid formation.

LOWEST U.S. DEATH RATE

Lowest death rate in the history of the United States death registration states was recorded in 1941, the U.S. Census Bureau announces.

Provisional mortality statistics for that year, just tabulated, show a crude death rate of 10.5 per 1,000 population. The 1940 rate was 10.8, a slight increase over the previous low level of 10.6 reached in 1938 and 1939.

There were 21,362 fewer deaths in 1941 than in 1940. Most of the decrease occurred in the rural areas. The greatest decreases were in the District of Columbia, Idaho and Vermont. Greatest increases in death rates for individual states were in Arizona and Virginia.

Total number of deaths for the entire nation for 1941 was 1,395,507.

At a general rule, a bear will not harm a motionless person.

Oak Bay A.R.P. Practice Biggest So Far Attempted

A. S. G. Musgrave, A.R.P. controller, was one of the "casualties" when auxiliary firemen "rescued" persons "trapped" in the upper stories of a building.

The largest A.R.P. test attempted to date in Oak Bay was carried out successfully Wednesday night when the complete medical personnel of the Oak Bay A.R.P. organization and half the wardens dealt with more than 50 "casualties."

Wardens, many equipped with helmets and flashlights for the first time, patrolled streets of district 1A, all the municipality south of Oak Bay Avenue. "Incidents" occurred in this area but "casualties" were treated at first aid posts at the Willows and Monterey Schools, and seven first aid points throughout Oak Bay.

"Casualties" were spaced to arrive at the posts and points at 15-minute intervals so doctors and medical staff could the work of first aid and ambulance units, as well as the stretcher bearers.

The Oak Bay A.R.P. ambulance and 11 auxiliary ambulances were used to convey the "injured" to places of treatment.

Regular firemen got plenty of practice in rescuing four persons from buildings, and attending with an inhalator to a person suffering electric shock.

Auxiliary firemen attended the burning of the old lookout near the Oak Bay boathouse and at a display of incendiary bomb extinguishing techniques at Windsor Park. George Murdoch demonstrated with the incendiary bombs.

A. S. G. Musgrave, A.R.P. controller, said this morning A.R.P. wardens, first aid workers, stretcher bearers and ambulance units, as well as auxiliary firemen and policemen, had worked in a manner "satisfactory to the most exacting mind."

The practice, he said, however, was not carried out without hitches. The failure of four auxiliary ambulances to arrive on time for the practice left 12 "casualties" stranded for a time and upset the routine of the test.

He said such things were to be expected in a test of a voluntary nature.

Rain Removes Threat to Woods

District Forester Charles J. Haddon said today that unless three or four weeks of extremely hot weather intervene between now and the end of August, the British Columbia forest service does not expect any major fires in coastal woods.

Mr. Haddon explained that unless weather conditions change radically, it is improbable that fires grave enough to require the transfer of fighters from other jobs will materialize. Several logging outfits are reopen-

Coal Mines Face Problem

H. R. Plommer, vice-president and general manager of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited, said today British Columbia's coal mining industry, facing the prospect of declining production, could "make good use of 1,000 more men during the next few months."

Mr. Plommer said that shortage of manpower was the reason for the loss in output. Demand for coal continues to increase, and it is expected that during the next few months British Columbia's coal requirements will be about 25 per cent greater than a year ago.

C. L. O'Brien, special deputy coal administrator at Ottawa, is on his way to the coast to make a first-hand survey of the coal situation here.

Efforts are being made to dis-

ing, and lumber production figures should soon show the result.

For the present at least, fear of a smoke pall which would obscure sea and sky, blinding the eyes of coast defenders, has been removed. Mr. Haddon said the threat of enemy incendiary action has been stalled off, because under existing conditions such action would be profitless.

"The break we've got now has eased the fire hazard 50 per cent from what it was after June 21," Mr. Haddon said. "In a normal year, this is the time when all big fires start." He added that while the outlook for a fire-free season is excellent, it does not justify a let down of precautions on the part of those entering the woods for business or pleasure.

courage the competition of other war industries for the services of experienced coal miners, many of whom have been drawn away from that occupation by the prospect of higher pay in shipyards and other war plants.

Urge Argentina Seize Nazi Goods

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Terming unsatisfactory the German explanation that the 4,800-ton Argentine freighter Tio Tercero was sunk by mistake, Nicolas Repetto, Socialist deputy, proposed in the Chamber of Deputies Wednesday night that Argentina seize Axis goods in this country and create a fund to cover damages to Argentine ships in "this unrestricted submarine warfare." The Tio Tercero was sunk off the coast of the United States June 22.

The deputies today discussed in secret session whether Argentina should break diplomatic relations with the Axis.

Sewing Machine Wanted By I.O.D.E.

The Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., is appealing for the loan of a sewing machine for use in the I.O.D.E. workroom, Arcade Building. Here a bevy of busy women meet several times weekly to make comforts for the men of the forces, the navy and the merchant navy—comforts which are so much appreciated that the workers are determined to keep the supply flowing steadily.

But machines on hand are inadequate to keep up with the material available and the number of workers eager to sew, and it is in the hope that some one who has a sewing machine in good condition will loan it for this patriotic purpose that the I.O.D.E. makes this appeal. Any one having a machine to lend is kindly requested to send it to the I.O.D.E. workroom, Arcade Building, or get in touch with Mrs. T. A. Johnston, Municipal war work convener, at E 0880.

U.S. Clubwomen Out To Clean Up Vice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Federation of Women's Clubs is mobilizing its 2,500,000 members into a drive to force a clean-up of vice conditions which it finds are rife around many army and navy areas in the United States.

Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of Baltimore, general federation president, said Wednesday that this drive, intended to reach every hamlet as well as big city where soldiers and sailors are concentrated, is in response to a rising demand by women all over the country.

"Every place I go—and I've been in 28 states from coast to coast in recent months—women are concerned over the increase in prostitution, venereal disease and drinking," she said in an interview. "I haven't addressed a meeting of clubwomen—and I'm constantly speaking to clubs, big and little—that women don't get up in the audience and want to know what can be done."

The Centennial Auxiliary of W.M.S. met in the church parlor Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Wilson presiding. The devotional service was conducted by Mesdames Pimlot, Harbridge, Couch and Peat. The guest speaker was Miss Arnitt, a missionary from China, who spoke of her travels through Palestine.

It would cost $26,000,000,000 to travel to the nearest star, with a fare of only 1 cent a mile.

There are more than 30,000,000 stars in the universe.

S. MacLean, Victoria, Gets U.S. Fellowship

Samuel MacLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. MacLean, 1456 Gladstone Avenue, who is now employed in Montreal by the Canadian Pacific Airlines, has been offered a fellowship by the University of Texas to assist in making a study of air transportation in Latin America.

While now, because of war regulations, it is impossible for Mr. MacLean to accept the fellowship, he will be given a similar offer at the conclusion of the war.

Born in Victoria, Mr. MacLean lived here until 1938 when he joined the Civil Aviation Division of the Department of Transport. He has been with the Canadian Pacific Airlines at Montreal since March, 1941.

He was educated at city schools and attended Victoria College, Provincial Norman School and the University of British Columbia. For some time Mr. MacLean has been taking a correspondence course in Commercial Air Transportation offered by the University of Texas.

Train 100,000 Girls For Service Ranks

LONDON, (C.P.)—The first 100,000 recruits now are wearing the navy and white uniform of the National Association of Girls' Training Corps. They are Britain's young women nearing conscription age and their association is the little sister of the uniformed auxiliary services, the W.R.N.S., the A.T.S. and the W.A.A.F.

The movement to form the association got under way only last February, and Miss Grace Browning, chairman, and Miss K. Curlett, the organizing secretary, preached the gospel of the movement in tours throughout the country. They stressed the need of giving all girls nearing conscription age some sort of pre-service training.

So far as the girls themselves were concerned they apparently needed no urging to join the movement. It was the parents who had to be convinced. The girls clamored for the same opportunities which are provided their brothers in the various cadet movements.

The Women's Voluntary Service helped the girls obtain their uniforms—the girls have to get them themselves—and classes now are under way in signaling, first aid and physical exercises designed to fit the girls for quick acclimatization when they are called up for full-time service.

So-Ed Party Saturday

Another So-Ed informal party will be held in the Y.M.C.A. building Saturday night at 8.30. With Roy Allison as master of ceremonies, the evening's program will be composed of novelty numbers and sing-songs. Helen Simpson is secretary of the organization.

Refreshments will be served during the evening. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from members. Berne Porter's orchestra will provide music.

Just before the war there were 6,200,000 motor vehicles operating in continental Europe; now there are scarcely 1,000,000.

Hibbett, the former Doreen Crowther, who is making her home at James Island, after her marriage at St. Mary's, Oak Bay, July 4; right, Mrs. Alex. H. Ord, the former Audrey Lovell, married at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. W. Lovell, Oak Bay.

WEDDINGS

JAMIESON—CRAIG

At St. Paul's United Church, Sidney, last evening at 8.30, Bella Kitchen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Craig, Second Street, Sidney, became the bride of Mr. Stuart William Jamieson, son of Mrs. Stuart Jamieson of New Westminster. The church was prettily decorated with summer flowers in pastel shades.

Rev. T. Keyworth of Grand Forks, formerly of Sidney, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. D. M. Perley. Mrs. Perley was at the organ; and during the signing of the register accompanied Miss K. Lowe in the solo "Because."

The bride wore a gown of white triple sheer, with lace yoke, full sleeves and gathered waist, the long full skirt ending in a brief train. Her veil of embroidered net fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of pale pink roses and swainsons. Mr. Craig gave his daughter in marriage. Mrs. T. Keyworth was matron of honor in pale pink sheer, and the Misses Agnes Craig and Priscilla Towers were bridesmaids in turquoise sheer. All wore doll hats in shades contrasting with their dresses, and carried bouquets of pink carnations, snapdragons and rosebuds. Mr. Ray Harris was best man and Messrs. W. Gardner and G. Bowcott were ushers.

After the service a reception was held at Wesley Hall, where summer flowers in profusion decorated the hall and covered the arch under which the bride party received. Mrs. Craig welcomed the guests in a navy blue redingote ensemble with matching accessories, assisted by Mrs. Jamieson, the groom's mother, in a navy and sage blue ensemble with navy accessories. Both wore rosebud corsages.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. J. Baird, New Westminster; Mrs. John MacDonald and family, Miss June Rose, Messrs. Bill Smeaton and Earl Jamieson, Vancouver. Supper was served from a lace-covered table, centred with the three-tier wedding cake, and arranged with vases of pink and mauve sweet peas. After the honeymoon in Vancouver, for which the bride donned a Queen's blue dressmaker suit with white accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson will make their home at Kelsey Bay, B.C.

LONG—CHAN

Of much interest to Chinese circles in Victoria is the marriage which took place in Indiana, U.S.A., recently of Sarah Chan, daughter of Mr. Y. H. Chan of Victoria, and Moses Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Long of Vancouver. The young couple are both graduates of the University of British Columbia.

The wedding took place in the University Presbyterian Church at West Lafayette, Indiana, the afternoon of June 21, Rev. John Findlay officiating. The ceremony was followed by a reception for 50 guests at the home of Mrs. L. M. Ramey, which was decorated with flowers from the gardens of Prof. and Mrs. A. Swope and Prof. and Mrs. R. B. Marshall.

The bride, who wore the groom's gift of pearls and was gowned in white embroidered silk organza and finger-tip veil cascading from a pearl tiara, carried white roses and lilies. She was attended by Miss Minnie Bittner of Benton Harbor, Mich., who was frocked in aqua marquette trimmed in taffeta and carried pink roses.

Mr. Long, who received a master's degree from Purdue University last January, was supported by Mr. Conrad Wan, Purdue '40, Chicago. Messrs. T. K. Tsui and Chauncey Chu, Chinese students at Purdue, served as ushers.

Following a week's honeymoon Mr. Long and his bride, who taught in Chung San University at Canton, China, until invasion and Japanese bombing took up residence in Benton Harbor, Mich., where the groom is employed by the Covel Mfg. Co.

MACNICOL—PURSER
At Kitsilano Lawn Bowling Club the marriage was solemnized July 11 of Ann Lenora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Purser of Vancouver, to Wright Robert Macnicol, R.C.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Macnicol of Vancouver, formerly of Victoria. Rev. George Pringle, D.D., was the officiating clergyman and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For the ceremony she was wearing an azure blue frock complemented by a white hat and accessories. Her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Barnett was her only attendant and Mrs. Robert Patrick, cousin of the groom, was best man.

Following the service a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Macnicol will reside in Victoria.

DRAKE—COPPOCK

Against a background of pastel pink and blue flowers in St. Barnabas Church Wednesday evening, Rev. Canon N. E. Smith solemnized the marriage of Eva Margaret, only daughter of the late Mr. R. A. Coppock and Mrs. Coppock, 1035 Caledonia Avenue, and Sergt.-Pilot John Francis Drake, R.C.A.F., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Drake, 1033 Inverness Street.

Given in marriage by Mr. Wm. Diamond, a family friend, the bride wore a floor-length frock of white net and lace, over taffeta, the long-waisted bodice of lace finished with a sweetheart neck and short shirred sleeves. Her chapel veil fell from a Mary Stuart headpiece of net and lace, and she carried a round bouquet of gardenias, sweet peas and larkspur showered with sweet heart roses.

Three attendants preceded her up the aisle to the strains of the "Wedding March," played by Mrs. R. E. V. Yerburch. All three wore pretty gowns in style similar to that of the bride, Miss Christine Campbell, maid of honor, in ice-blue net over taffeta, with an overskirt of silver threaded net, a matching blue coronet trimmed with silver and pink, and a blue shoulder veil. The bridesmaids were Miss Freda Pattinson in ciel blue net over taffeta, and Miss Betty Skinner, in pink. Their halo headpieces matched their gowns and were worn with veils

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. A. Humphries of 2566 Marine Drive, Vancouver, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Merrill Anne, at St. Paul's Hospital on July 12. Mrs. Humphries was the former Marguerite Van Voight of Victoria.

Miss Jane Whittall of Montreal is visiting in Victoria as the guest of Mr. Bruce MacDonald, Simcoe Street, and in her honor Mrs. MacDonald entertained a few guests at the tea hour Wednesday afternoon. Miss Ruth MacDonald of Neepawa, sister of Mr. MacDonald, and Miss Lena Mackenzie, also of Neepawa, who have been visiting with Mr. MacDonald and Mrs. MacDonald, have returned to their homes in Manitoba.

out the blue-and-white motif. Mrs. Copock received in a dusty rose and navy blue redingote ensemble with navy accessories, and Mrs. Drake was in a black and white sheer redingote outfit with white accessories, and both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations. The three-tier wedding cake centred the prettily appointed supper-table, which was lit with tall tapers.

After a honeymoon in Vancouver, Sergt.-Pilot and Mrs. Drake will return to Victoria to live. The bride left in a blue dressmaker suit with beige accessories and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and swainsons. Mrs. J. Campbell, Coombs, V.I., was a guest at the wedding.

Laval Speeding Workers to Germany

VICHY (AP)—Premier Pierre Laval today assumed direct control of the recently-created government department of French labor in Germany and immediately delegated his powers to Jacques Benoist-Mechin, secretary of state in the foreign office.

Latest estimates were that the present drive for labor would net all but about 100,000 workmen for Germany.

Benoist-Mechin, who also is chairman of the central committee of the French Tri-color Legion, formed from volunteers fighting against Russia, announced Wednesday night that the Germans had agreed to free members of the immediate families of legionnaires who have been wounded while serving with the German army on the eastern front.

Nazis' European Garrison Intact

LONDON (CP)—A British military commentator confirmed today Russian reports that German divisions, recently withdrawn from occupied France, had arrived on the eastern front, but he said there had been no reduction in the regular Nazi garrison holding western Europe against invasion.

"The Germans form and train a division in France and then send it to whatever front is required," the commentator declared, adding that the troops sent to Russia were from this category only.

He said the German garrison forces in France are "not spearhead troops, but are good soldiers, nevertheless."

British promptness to emphasize the strength of the German garrison, plus other indications, led informed British observers to conclude that the western powers are not in a position to open up a second front on the Continent this summer.

CANADIANS TRAIN

An informed British source said large-scale exercises in which the Canadian army is engaged, are "evidence that we are preparing for invasion," but he declared he did not believe that "invasion was possible in time to relieve present pressure on the Russian armies."

"It is evident," he said, "that the Germans are throwing their entire weight into the present offensive, in the hope not merely of reaching the Caucasus oil field, but of defeating Russia in the field before a British-American invasion can be launched."

The possibility of a series of large-scale Allied raids on the Continent was discounted by this source, who said that only a large-scale invasion could force Germany to shift enough troops to the west to help Russia.

Allied diplomatic quarters gave indications of being perturbed at enthusiastic stories in the Soviet press concerning an imminent invasion of the Continent.

Observers believed it probable that Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, British ambassador in Moscow, had been instructed to inform the Soviet government that this does not represent the true position.

Red Cross Notes

CORDOVA BAY UNIT

The Cordova Bay Red Cross Unit met at the home of Mrs. Noel Thomas, Tuesday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. K. M. Lewis, in the chair. The secretary-treasurer's half-yearly statement showed that the unit has raised, for all purposes, since the first of the year, $437.50. Mrs. R. Squire, work convener, reported 120 knitted articles completed and 33 sewn articles, during the past six months.

Mrs. B. Dyer, social convener, reported arrangements made for a variety concert, in McMorran's pavilion, Aug. 14, Mrs. K. Greene, well-known entertainer, assisted by Miss Florence Clough and pupils, with several local artists, will give the program. Mrs. W. E. Lloyd and Mrs. W. Emory volunteered to make popcorn for sale during the intermission.

Mrs. Squire reported that the unit has been asked to secure donations of fruit and vegetables for the garden party and sale being held at Government House by the Red Cross, Aug. 12, donations to be left with Mrs. Lewis on the afternoon of Aug. 11. Mesdames Dyer, Emory, Squire, Martin, Jack Genn and Miss Bethel Thomas were chosen to assist with the sale at Government House. Tickets for admission to the grounds and raffle tickets are being sold by various members of the unit. A contest was conducted by Mrs. G. Ross and won by Mrs. Ian Jack.

Mrs. Thomas, assisted by Miss Bethel, served tea. The next meeting of the unit will be held Aug. 11 at the home of Mrs. Lewis, Cordova Bay Road.

The following letter was recently received at Red Cross headquarters from the executive officer of a merchant ship: "Many thanks for a gift of knitted things received before sailing. I can assure you that such gifts are very much appreciated by the ratings who received them. Would you please pass on 'Many Thanks' to the ladies who knitted them."

Robbery Cases Increase in London

LONDON (CP)—Disclosure that highway robbery cases are on the increase in London brought a suggestion in Parliament today that the crime be made punishable by death before a firing squad, but the government refused to be alarmed by the situation.

Herbert Morrison, Home Secretary and Minister of Home Security, told the House of Commons that during the first six months of 1942 there were 85 cases of robbery or assault with intent to rob as compared with 75 for the corresponding period in 1941.

He said, however, that the police "are satisfied there is no ground for apprehension that there is a growing menace."

"My own opinion," he said, "is that the figures are a remarkable tribute to the character of the people of London in all circumstances of blackout and wartime conditions."

Garage Explosion Kills 4, Injures Dozen

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four men died, a fifth was injured critically and a dozen others suffered minor hurts when gasoline from a sheared-off pump exploded and ripped walls from a three-story brick rent-a-car agency in downtown Cincinnati.

Among the dead was Police Sgt. Carl Hille, 36, summoned to the scene by a report of "gas fumes in a garage."

Glass and debris were scattered over a three-block radius.

U.S. House to Vote On Tax Bill Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The largest tax bill in the history of the United States—a $6,143,900,000 wartime measure carrying heavy new income and corporation levies—went before the House of Representatives today for general debate.

The procedure arranged by the rule committee calls for three days of general debate on the bill and then a vote Monday without consideration of any changes in the committee's work.

New Vancouver Island Army Chief

Gen. Stuart Returns

From a visit to Ottawa, Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, G.O.C. in Chief, Western Defences, returned to Victoria Tuesday evening. He dined with his staff at Work Point Barracks, a guest being Maj.-Gen. A. E. Potts, officer commanding the 6th Division and Vancouver Island's fixed defences.

Today Gen. Stuart, who has not yet transferred his headquarters to Vancouver, was busy in his office, picking up the threads of tasks left when he went to Ottawa. He said he had no statement of interest to the public to make.

Three-fourths of the living creatures of the earth inhabit the sea.

Isley Rejects Currency Scheme

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Isley in the House of Commons Wednesday night flatly rejected the proposal of Arthur Slaght, Liberal, Parry Sound, Ont., that the government should issue $1,200,000,000 in national currency to assist in war financing and lessen the interest burden.

The minister said he would rather resign than accept such a proposal.

Mr. Slaght's suggestions drew applause from the New Democracy group, which supports Social Credit principles, and several Liberals also thumped their desks in approval.

Mr. Slaght spoke in the continued debate on budget resolutions covering income tax changes which will impose heavier imposts on the Canadian taxpayer.

TAX CHANGES

Mr. Isley announced an amendment providing that a married woman earning more than $660 a year will be treated as a "single" taxpayer while her husband will be treated as a married taxpayer. This is designed to encourage married women to continue working.

After several members had protested against income tax being levied against commissioned

Cyclists Here On 10,000-Mile Trip

Well sun-tanned and, not a little disappointed in unusual B.C. weather, 18 youth hostellers shown above arrived here Wednesday afternoon from Vancouver, another stop in their 10,000-mile train and bicycle journey of U.S. and Canada. One thousand miles will be traveled by cycling, the remainder on train.

Leaving Northfield, Mass., June 25, the group of 14 girls and four boys started on their tour, which is scheduled to last nine weeks. All the hostellers carry their own personal belongings, and use $1 per day each for expenses. They represent practically all of the states in New England.

Youngest in the group is 14-year-old Robert Milam, whose home is in Jacksonville, Florida. His typical southern drawl verifies the fact he is from the south. Another interesting personality in the travellers is Dorothy Menzel, who came to the U.S. three years ago from Czechoslovakia.

TREAT US FINE

"The people of Canada treat us just fine," said Miss Dorothy Plaisted, leader of the group. She is a school teacher in Sanford, Maine.

According to Miss Plaisted, the most interesting points in Canada that the hostellers have traveled have been Banff and Lake Louise.

"The scenery is simply wonderful," she said.

This year the American Youth Hostel organization only sent this one group on a tour, whereas in previous years more than four groups have traveled. They usually cover all of North and South America.

While in Ottawa the travelers were honored by having a police escort on their cycling trips.

The group spent the night at the Pro-Rec centre at Mount Douglas Park, and left for Sidney this afternoon. They will call at Orcas next and from there will continue their trip through the United States, Washington, Oregon and California will be traveled and then they will cross the country back to the hotel headquarters at Northfield, Mass.

The main and only objection so far of the cyclists is the number of flat tires. Each carries his own kit, averaging 25 pounds.

ment of State announced July 9 that Admiral Harold R. Stark and Brig-Gen. Charles L. Bolte had been assigned to consult in London with the National Committee of the Fighting French headed by Gen. de Gaulle "on all matters relating to the conduct of the war."

(The announcement and an accompanying memorandum stressed that the action had to do with military affairs and did not refer to the controversy over diplomatic recognition, which the United States has not given the De Gaulle organization.)

The protest was announced pending publication of the French stand concerning French warships interned at Alexandria. The latter was understood to reject all proposals to move the ships elsewhere than to French territory, on the grounds that to do so would not conform with French-German armistice terms.

Victoria Flier Wins Promotion

WITH THE R.C.A.F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—P.O. Reg. J. Lane of 1468 Begbie Street, Victoria, is one of a number of members of a Canadian bomber squadron here who have won promotions. He becomes a flight lieutenant. The Victoria boy, one of the first Canadians to captain one of the big four-motored Halifax bombers, has been acting as flight commander.

Others in the squadron promoted are Sgt. R. F. Miller, who has moved into the officers' mess as a P.O., new warrant officers being the former sergeants Bill Scott of Yorkton, Sask., J. A. Lorange of Montreal, and W. R. Bandeen of Winnipeg.

"I felt I had kept faith with my pals," . . . That is how Herbert Peterson of Calgary described his first thoughts after he learned he had been awarded the D.F.C., to which he already has won a bar.

First warrant officer in the R.C.A.F. to win the D.F.C., Peterson joined the air force at the same time as two friends, Flt-Sgt. Tom Royan and Tom May. They didn't meet again until all three reached England and held a reunion. It was their last. Royan, veteran of 32 operational trips, and May, with 22 "ops" to his credit, were posted as missing last winter. Peterson is still "keeping faith" after 25 trips.

Peterson won the D.F.C. for a daring, low-level attack against the German naval base at Trondheim last spring. The attack was carried out on two successive days and Peterson went in so low through Trondheim Fjord that ground defences were firing down at his aircraft.

One of the Halifax's four engines was hit over the target and the gasoline system was damaged. There wasn't enough to keep the three remaining engines going all the way home. So Peterson flew most of the way on two engines and switched on the third to land. He won the bar to his D.F.C. for bringing his Halifax home on two engines after a Ruhr raid during which his gunners destroyed an ME110 which attempted to attack it off the French coast. It's no mean task to put down a 25-ton Halifax with only two engines operating "and I wouldn't like to have to do it again."

Letters to Editor

Correspondents are reminded to use one side of the paper only, to write legibly, and to keep their communications within a reasonable length. A short letter, with a point, concisely expressed, has a better chance of publication than one with labored platitudes.

SERVICES IN FRENCH

We much regret that, owing to a mistake in the report submitted by this organization to the press for publication concerning the banquet of the French-Canadian Club on Sunday, the impression was given that weekly services in French would be introduced at St. Andrew's Cathedral. What Bishop Cody said was that as soon as the numbers of the French-speaking members of the public and armed forces warrant such an innovation, services in French would be given occasionally on week-days at the cathedral.

THE MERCHANT NAVY

May I be permitted through the medium of your valuable paper to thank Mrs. Richardson of Vancouver for her letter in the Colonist re the merchant navy. It is well to keep the name of those brave men before the public and make the people realize that very few businesses would function on this beautiful island of ours without the aid of the merchant navy.

In Victoria we have a very hospitable sailors' home in the Connaught Seamen's Institute, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Watson, who are always ready to help the boys when they arrive from a torpedoed ship and are ready to take another away. The boys are entertained at a dance ever so often when in port. They are also given socks, underwear and clothing to help to make them comfortable and happy. Last month nearly 400 registered at the institute.

The Ladies' Guild is ever on the alert to find ways and means to meet the demands and expense of the institute which has been entirely kept up by its efforts since the beginning of the war. Formerly London helped each month.

Girls in offices as well as housewives are showing practical interest in our work, but like Mrs. Richardson of Vancouver we would like to see a few more men interested. We occasionally appeal to the public and never in vain.

(Mrs.) LOUISA MacKENZIE, Hon. Treasurer, 1045 Queen's Avenue, Victoria, July 13, 1942.

ISLAND TIMBER

In your issue of Saturday, July 11, I came upon a notice inviting tenders for Numukamis timber, on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

On further perusal of such advertisements I generally find that so many years are given for the cutting and removal of the timber. What right has anybody to pass sentence of death on a beautiful tract of timber in the plenitude of its existence. Surely dollars and cents can be forgotten sometimes, even by men who arrogate to themselves a right to cast away that which rightfully belongs to all Canadians—the scenic wonderland of Vancouver

Require Price Tags On Taxed Articles

OTTAWA (CP)—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board requires merchants who sell goods subject to the retail purchase tax imposed in Finance Minister's Isley's budget to show the price of such articles exclusive of the tax.

A board order has been issued prescribing the procedure. It says the price must be exhibited by price tag or otherwise. It is optional with merchants whether they also display the amount of the tax or whether they display the cost, tax included.

Goods subject to this tax include purses and handbags, diamonds and jewelry, cut glass, china and porcelain (except articles for use in preparation or serving of food and drink) clocks and watches. The board previously had issued an order "respecting maximum prices of goods and services affected by 1942 federal tax changes," in which was set forth procedure by which the new and increased taxes were permitted to be collected from consumers, without profit or mark-up based on them, so the price ceilings should be maintained.

Burns at Willows

A fire of unknown origin destroyed the rear portion of the Goat Building at the Willows exhibition grounds early this morning. The fire started at 1.37 and Oak Bay firemen fought it for an hour and a half.

Fire Chief L. G. Clayards said today that damage was considerable.

REPLY TO MR. PIERRE

There is a letter in your Saturday issue criticizing a story I wrote recently about an old Indian chief, saying it is full of "inaccuracies."

As this was a story, not a report, and as the name of the chief was fictitious and his thoughts and sayings purely imaginary, there can be no question of accuracies or inaccuracies. Your correspondent talks of "the chief of Saanich." In this he shows his ignorance, for there are four chiefs in Saanich for the four distinct bands there.

It must have been obvious to anyone who can read that this story was written for the purpose of appealing for sympathy for an old man who is forced to live on so little as $4.48 a month by the parsimonious Indian Department, yet who is exploited by them when they need his presence to lend color at a white man's ceremony.

There is no inaccuracy in this one statement of fact, that $4.48 worth of rations per month (and a large proportion of this is flour) is all that an old Indian man is allowed.

Your correspondent, whoever he is, can be no friend of the Indians if he so objects to stories written for the express purpose of rousing the public to indignation at the shocking treatment they are receiving under the present administration.

Also it would be advisable for Mr. Simon Pierre to read his newspaper more carefully or get someone to explain the articles to him if he does not understand them.

H. GLYNN-WARD.

Save anti-freeze solution. Scarcity is explained by the fact that the average fighter plane needs 11 times as much anti-freeze as the average auto. Incidentally, zinc and copper in one car would make 2,400 .30 calibre cartridge cases.

THE PUBLIC is strongly aware of the need for an improved system of athletic training in the elementary schools. In another of the series of Esquire sports polls 85.01 per cent of the total vote answered in the affirmative to the question: "Do you think it is of paramount importance that a strong, comprehensive, nationwide physical culture program be immediately introduced in all elementary schools." It is obvious that proper physical training in the grade school ages can accomplish more good than in the high schools and colleges.

Tennis, which seems to have sunk to a low ebb, received a big boost in the poll when it won out as the sport that contributes most to the "special nervous system and muscular sensitivity required for proficiency in flying." Not only the public, but also the men in service named tennis as the most helpful sport to aviation.

Waiving all the rules that bar competition between amateurs and professionals was favored by 52.82 per cent of the people polled. Vincent Richards, noted tennis pro, voted yes; but John Kieran favored retaining the amateur standards.

Activities of sports stars like Joe Louis and Bob Feller in helping raise relief funds were vindicated by 78.92 per cent of the total vote. Reinstatement of the national golf championships was favored by 86.31 per cent of the poll. Whether form counts as much in fishing as in other sports received a "No" verdict in 52.44 per cent of the ballots. A heavy majority of 88.29 per cent voted against curtailing sports further in America, as has been done in England this year.

Canadian Open Golf

After U.S. Big Shots

By SCOTT YOUNG

TORONTO (CP)—The Royal Canadian Golf Association is flooding the mails with brochures telling our brothers-in-arms from across the great unfortified boundary how to visit Canada without having to walk home.

Each United States entrant in the Canadian open, if a motorist, is entitled to 16 gallons of gasoline during his visit.

The visitors are advised to enter Canada with full gasoline tanks to supplement their rationed supply. Of course, the R.C.G.A. probably wouldn't beat its breast with undue despair should a couple of the big drive and putt men become stranded. We could use a few of those guys on our courses, if only for the scenic value.

Despite the importance of the foregoing, the tournament is still won by the best golfer, not by the one who uses least gasoline. Ben Hogan has said he will enter, but the word hasn't been confirmed officially yet. Among the visiting potentates sure to be there (Toronto Mississauga, August 6, 7, 8) are Gene Sarazen, Harry Cooper, Jug McSpade, Dick Metz, Jimmy Demaret, Joe Kirkwood, Paul Runyan, Horton Smith, Tony Penna.

There also will be most of the top-flight Canadian professionals, because the open's $3,500 in prizes (to the winner: $1,000 and the Seagram Gold Cup) looks good in these days of fewer lessons, plummeting equipment sales. Best Canadian bet probably will be Bob Gray or Glen Brydson of Toronto or Vancouver's Ken Black, unless he really meant that retirement announcement a few weeks ago.

Whether or not the soldiers get more relaxation out of competing in sports than in sitting in the stands at "first-class sporting events" went 72.58 per cent in favor of participation. Horatio Winslow, the author, wrote: "There seems to be an idea that spectators can be interested in sports only if first-class athletes are in action. This is true, of course, for million-dollar games; but it isn't true for a lot of other sports events. The most absorbing sporting event is one in which you have an interest. If you are interested in one side or the other you don't need professional athletes to keep you on your toes. Outside of news broadcasts, about the only radio program which interests me is a Joe Louis fight. But if I were again a member of a regiment I'd rather see a series of inter-regimental bouts than anything Joe Louis has done since the second Schmeling match."

Writing about the recent skidding act done by the Seattle Rainiers in the current Coast League baseball race, Royal Brougham of the Seattle PI passes the opinion the reason may be the failure of outfielder Jo-Jo White to display his usual form. "That's news," because the former Detroit flash has been up there with the best since he came to the Pacific coast in the Freddy Hutchinson deal. White hasn't played regularly, hasn't hit consistently nor stolen his usual quota of bases. On the three championship Seattle clubs White was the dynamic little sparkplug. He gave it zip and zing. The fact remains that White is getting older and unless you are a Freddy-Fitzsimmons or Ted Lyons when you get older in baseball you don't get better.

Douglas Tire Tackle Jokers

According to most of the Douglas Tire lacrosse players there will be only one team in the league cellar after tonight's game with Jokers, and it will not be Douglas Tire.

The two teams play at the Sports Centre at 8:30. The tiremen are at present in last place with six points while Jokers are one point ahead. A win for Gus Munro's team would put them out of the league basement for the first time this season.

All tonight's preliminary games have been canceled to make way for a practice of the Victoria All-Star aggregation that will play Vancouver Wallace's here Saturday. Coach Bob McInnes will put the lads through a stiff workout and says the boys will have to work to hold their spots on the aggregation.

Tickets for Saturday night's game went on sale at Art Chapman's and Victoria Sporting Goods today. With a number of important items cropping up during the week all senior team managers will meet with members of the league executive at the Sports Centre tonight at 9.

Douglas Tire line-up follows: Bryant, Ovarchick, Barr, Stevens, Perry, Moffatt, Robbins, Holden, Clanton, Worth, Langill and Travis.

Canadian Swim Titles at Stake

STE. ADELE, Que. (CP)—Swimmers and divers from various parts of Canada and the United States began arriving in this Laurentian mountain resort today and went through practice lunges and strokes in preparation for the Canadian swimming and diving championships to be held Friday and Saturday.

Close to 100 out-of-town competitors are expected to take part in the 20 championship events and first of the visitors to arrive were members of the British Columbia and Manitoba teams.

From Vancouver came Joar Langdon, Doug McQuaig, Ronnie Neilson, Jean Stanton and Shirley Muir. The Winnipeg contingent included Kay Gordon, Margaret Taggart, Betty Morton, Grace Dick, Pat Jackson, Ethel Biebler and Rose Young.

The events will be run off under the floodlights Friday night and continued Saturday afternoon.

Boudreau Pays Yanks Tribute

NEW YORK (AP)—Unlike several of his American League lodge brothers who have been breathing defiance at the Yankees lately, Lou Boudreau of Cleveland Indians is only faintly hopeful that the champs can be hauled back and forced to fight it out hand-to-hand down the stretch.

If there is any single outstanding characteristic of the young man who celebrates his 25th birthday on Friday, it is his insistence upon looking the facts of life straight in the eye. He is singularly free of illusions.

"Yeah, it might develop into a race," he said Wednesday at the Indians prepared to open a series with the bombers, "but on the other hand it could easily become another of those run-arounds. If DiMaggio and Keller ever start hitting the way they should I'm afraid that's what will happen."

GREAT PITCHING

"They're getting great pitching now to go with their fielding. That Hank Borowy is a lot harder to hit than he looks from the stands. He uses his curve to get you off balance, and then whips in his fast one. It's really fast, too."

With some reluctance Lou consented to discuss his own club's chances. He obviously preferred to tell what a thrill he got out of the recent all-star game, which he christened with a home run.

"My team should continue to do pretty good," he said judiciously, "so long as Les Fleming keeps on hitting around .325. He must be about the most valuable rookie of the year. Jeff Heath is hitting all right, too. But our pitching has been only fair—outside of Jim Bagby and Al Smith. We're still right on the Red Sox' heels, though, and not too far behind the Yankees if they should slip."

WILF BATTY ENLISTS

WINNIPEG (CP)—Wilf Batty, champion paddler and executive member of the Winnipeg Canoe Club enlisted in the air crew of the Royal Canadian Air Force here Wednesday. In 1937 he was a member of the Winnipeg team which won the grand aggregate pennant of the Canadian Canoe Association, emblematic of the Dominion championship.

ARMY GRID COACHES

NEW YORK (AP)—Assignment of Col. Robert W. Neyland and Maj. Wallace Wade, football rivals for years, to coach the all-star United States army football squad through its eight-game schedule against professional teams was announced Wednesday by Grantland Rice, chairman of the army football committee.

Neyland formerly coached at Tennessee and Wade at Duke University.

Dodgers-Cubs Feud Flares

Brooklyn Triumphs

Bad blood has been flowing between Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs for two or more years in one of the most vicious feuds in baseball annals and the situation is getting more serious.

Wednesday the boys were so busy throwing bean balls at each other that the ball game got out of control and the Dodgers, operating in their element, captured a 10 to 5 verdict from the confused Cubs, who made five errors and used five pitchers to give 13 hits.

One version of the trouble between the clubs is that it started when Hugh Casey of the Dodgers threw at pitcher Claude Passeau of the Cubs a couple of years ago.

Through it all Passeau has managed to keep the upper hand on the pitching mound, winning seven and losing only twice to Brooklyn—until Wednesday. Then he was pelted for seven hits in two and a third innings, giving four runs, and was so infuriated by the riding of the Dodgers that he couldn't get the ball near the plate when Hiram Bithorn reloaded him. Brooklyn turned its bailing on the rookie and when he, too, had to be removed in the fifth inning he threw the ball at the Brooklyn bench-warmers.

10TH VICTORY

Kirby Higbe, working for the fourth time in a week, attained his 10th victory.

Chet Laabs of St. Louis Browns, currently on a batting spree, attracted attention to himself at Philadelphia by driving in five runs as the Browns beat the Athletics 7 to 4 in a night game.

New York Yankees extended their American League lead to six and a half games by scoring their second straight shut-out 4 to 0 against Cleveland Indians on the four-hit hurling of Alcy Donaid.

Boston Red Sox split with Chicago White Sox. Tex Hughson beat unlucky Ed Smith in the opener 10 to 1 for Smith's 15th setback. Then the Sox took the nightcap 11 to 6 although Ted Williams hit his 15th homer. Washington noised out Detroit Tigers 4 to 3 in 11 innings in a night game when Jimmy Fofahl singled with two on for the winning marker.

Rip Sewell pitched six-hit ball and Vince DiMaggio hit a three-run double to spark Pittsburgh to a 6 to 2 triumph over New York Giants.

St. Louis Cardinals swept a doubleheader from the Phils 7 to 3 and 9 to 4, and had the tail-enders so upset that they made three errors in the first game and five in the second, besides letting Johnny Hopp steal home in the nightcap.

COAST LEAGUE

The Portland Beavers continued their determined efforts to pull themselves out of the Coast League baseball cellar Wednesday night and handed

Whirlaway Becomes New Money-Winning Champ

Sport Shorts From Britain

LONDON (CP)—That great sire and unbeaten racer Nereo—only horse in Britain (and perhaps the world) to have a private air raid shelter—has been sold to a syndicate for approximately $275,000.

The syndicate includes the seller, M. H. Benson, who purchased the pony for $268,000 via long-distance telephone after he won the Grand Prix de Paris in 1938.

Nereo, whose two-year-olds began running this season, is considered to have a top chance of finishing at the head of the list of sires. Most of the smartest juveniles are his sons and daughters, including Nearly and Lady Sybil.

Italian-bred, Nereo was retired to stud when purchased by Benson and at night is led to an underground box-stall, complete with air conditioning.

FINEST STOCK

The animals include some of the finest bloodstock in Britain. Stallions are the St. Leger winners, Singapore and Chalmers, the 2,000 Guineas winner, Colombo, and the Ascot Gold Cup champion, Tiberius. There's also Fefeler, which ran third in this season's Oaks.

Jackie Atterton, British and Empire flyweight champion, hasn't lost his punch. If anything, he's developed a better one. Anyway, he threw one that dislocated the shoulder of Gunner Frank Bonsqr of Nottingham and stopped the scheduled 10-round match in the second round.

G. Hughes, 30, Davis Cup international and Wimbledon doubles champion in 1936, has joined the R.A.F. with the rank of acting pilot officer. He underwent a minor operation so he would be passed as fit.

Sets Track Record in Victory

BOSTON (AP)—A stretching flash of lightning known as Whirlaway today loomed as the first half-million-dollar winning prospect in the history of the turf.

Fresh from his record-smashing triumph Wednesday in the Massachusetts Handicap, Whirlaway was pointed today by his trainer, Ben Jones, for the $25,000 added Arlington Handicap at Chicago's Arlington Park Aug. 1.

The smashing victory that Whirlaway, owned by Warren Wright, scored in the Suffolk Downs feature boosted the horse's winnings to $454,366 or $16,636 more than the previous top earnings mark, amassed by Seabiscuit.

Giving every indication that he must be considered as one of the top handicap performers of all time, Whirlaway ran a field of six speedy opponents into the earth in almost nonchalant fashion under a smart ride by George Woolf before a crowd of almost 33,000.

TERRIFIC DRIVE

New Englanders, seeing "Mr. Bigtail" for the first time, still were pop-eyed today at the blaze of speed the champion turned on as he headed for the wire to win by about two and a half lengths over the Valdina Farm's Irish-bred Rounders.

Whirlaway broke well and then gave his supporters, who had backed him down to even money, a taste of the jitters by trailing the field by a good 10 lengths for at least half the journey.

Then Woolf gave him the nod and he showed why he rates among the all-time greats. With one burst he jumped to fourth place and in another moment he was out in front.

He roared down the stretch like a runaway locomotive and flashed across the wire in 1:48.15 to crack the track record for the mile and one-eighth distance, previously held by War Relic, by two-fifths of a second.

Whirlaway paid $4, $3 and $2.20. Rounders $6.60 and $3.80, and Mrs. Parker Corning's Attention, which finished third, $3.40.

Baseball Called Off

Owing to wet grounds and a light drizzle just before starting time Wednesday night's scheduled senior ball game between the V.M.D. and Navy was called off.

Friday night at 6:30 R.C.A.F. will oppose the Eagles.

Island Resorts Busy Despite Bad Weather

By E. L. FORBES

Yes, the weather is definitely spotty. There isn't enough sunshine these days to even get a suspicion of mid-season tan. Nevertheless, your holiday is just around the corner, and you might as well make the best of it. Grumbling doesn't help. In fact, it hinders. It colors your outlook and makes everything much more depressing than need be.

There are any number of vacation spots on Vancouver Island where weather is not a first consideration. Have you ever walked through the woods after a rain and smelt the soft, clean essence of cedar and pine? How about hiking along the smooth sands with a breeze blowing in your face and the tang of salt spume and spray whipping up an appetite you never knew you possessed? You might try climbing a mountain trail, with the misty clouds hanging low on the hillside, with ferns glistening with mountain dew and the birds calling in the cool green shade. Then there is the thrill of swimming in rain. Have you ever tried it?

There are so many things to do on a vacation you are never wholly dependent on the weather. Get out and enjoy yourself whatever happens. You'll come back healthy, rested and happy. Ready for good hard work in the long months to come.

Very often, when you arrive at HARRISON'S BEACH CAMP, at Parksville, you'll find the kettle singing on the stove. A tiny bit of service that is always welcome at the end of a long bus or train ride. Comfortable, clean cottages. Good beach.

You'll love the setting at ISLAND HALL HOTEL. Right on the beach. A beautiful living-room with many big windows. Delightful dining-room. In fact, everything you desire in a real summer inn.

Just two years old, and rapidly growing in popularity with everyone who visits it. EDGEWATER PARK TOURIST CAMP is a place of comfortable cottages on a clean, safe beach. Reasonable rates.

Ever try real camping? In a tent... meals out of doors? It's loads of fun. RATHREVOR

All A.R.P. Equipment Government Property

A.R.P. equipment and supplies distributed to district controls and warden's homes are the property of the Dominion Government and each warden is responsible for them. Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, said today.

The equipment such as helmets, whistles, rubber coats and boots, flashlights, scoops, stirrup pumps and supplies such as chloride of lime, which is not being distributed to A.R.P. posts, and medical supplies, was made available to the Advisory Council of the Provincial Protection Committee by the Dominion Government.

Local A.R.P. organizations have been responsible for distributing the equipment where it will be the most useful should the area be subject to an attack. Some equipment, Inspector Bishop said will not go around to everybody and the plan is to distribute it in each city block so that it may be available to the person who needs it most. Thus it is planned to have stirrup pumps for fighting incendiaries so a number of citizens can share them.

As yet Victoria has received no respirators although information from the Advisory Council indicates a large supply may arrive here soon.

Must Save Rags, Rope; Jail, Fines Provided

LONDON (CP)—Severe penalties for those who destroy rags, rope or string were ordered today by the government, ranging up to £500 ($2,225) fine or two years' imprisonment.

The Ministry of Supply said hundreds of thousands of tons of rags were needed as raw material to make equipment for the armed forces.

Wings Given Mother

LACHUTE, Que. (CP)—Believed to be the first Canadian woman to be so honored, Mrs. J. H. Theoret of this town, 40 miles from Montreal, was presented Wednesday with the wings of her 21-year-old son, L.A.C. Jean Charles Theoret, would have had pinned on him with members of the latest graduating class from No. 13 service flying training school at St. Hubert. L.A.C. Theoret was one of the victims of the four-plane crash near Malone, N.Y., just two weeks before he was slated to receive his wings.

"Ah, mes amis, in France as in your Canada and New Zealand, we always used KIWI. It is what you call—the grand polish!"
"Grand is right! That's why practically all the Allied armies, Navies and Air Forces have used it ever since."
"—Ever since we Anzacs showed them how in 1914/18—"
"Don't interrupt. Ever since they discovered it's the finest polish for keeping leather in grand shape—"
"Moi, I would say ever since they found its shine so truly brilliant—"
"Have it your own way, my friend. The fact is that Canadian use KIWI, Frenchmen use KIWI, Anzacs use KIWI—the world uses KIWI—"
"For one very good reason—"
"Because it's the finest polish for the job."
"YOU SAID IT!"

Swing Supplies For Second Front

LONDON (CP)—Edward R. Stettinius Jr., United States lend-lease administrator, arrived in Britain today for several weeks of conferences on the lend-lease program.

An unofficial American source said the talks will concern putting lend-lease into "reverse" to speed the day of an invasion of Europe.

Under the reverse program, Britain will supply American troops with many articles, while the United States will send Britain raw materials to make up losses.

It was pointed out that this will make available, for immediate American use, thousands of tons of supplies which it would take weeks to ship across the Atlantic.

New Tax Goes On Cigarettes

Victoria tobacco wholesalers said today smokers had just a few days left to buy cigarettes and tobaccos without paying the new Dominion government excise tax of $2 per 1,000.

Shipments of cigarettes and tobaccos with the new tax on them were being distributed to retailers today. Old stocks are expected to be cleaned up within the next week or so.

With the new excise tax, cigarettes sell for 12 cents for a package of eight and 29 cents for a package of 20. Tobaccos are also up 1 cent an ounce or every part on an ounce. Members of the forces are not omitted from the new tax. Their 25 cigarettes will cost 5 cents more.

Smokers can easily check as to whether they are buying cigarettes made under the old or new tax. All cigarettes on which the new tax has been collected have a red overmarking on the excise stamp. No person need pay the extra price unless the package is so marked.

While tobaccoists have anticipated smokers will try to stock up cigarettes and tobaccos under pre-tax prices, retailers believe they will be able to get rid of less popular lines as the new tax is applied on the fast-selling brands.

When new taxes were applied on cigarettes on former occasions there was a tendency for smokers to buy more tobacco and papers and roll their own, but after a few days tobaccoists were selling just as many machine-made cigarettes.

While tobaccoists here admit it is no more than a guess, they believe that after cigarette manufacturers have filled all stocks of old wrappings and packages, new size packages will be offered at even-money prices. Tobaccoists have a hunch the new packages will contain 10 cigarettes and sell for 15 cents, and some size package which will sell for a quarter, 30 or 35 cents.

Board Administrators Old Age Pensions

Administration of the Old Age Pension Act will remain with the Workmen's Compensation Board, because the Federal Government will not permit any change at present, Hon. George S. Pearson, provincial secretary, said today.

Hon. J. L. Halsey, Minister of Finance, writing to Mr. Pearson, said the Dominion Government would not agree to administration of the act either by the provincial secretary or by a commissioner appointed by the Provincial Cabinet. Mr. Halsey said only a board would be permitted to administer the act.

The B.C. Government, under the present act, has no power to appoint such a board. The act can be amended at the next session so a board can be appointed, to come directly under the provincial secretary.

"We are now right back where we started," Mr. Pearson said. "Administration will be continued by the Workmen's Compensation Board until an agreement can be arrived at with the Federal Government as to the type of administration."

"This proves the Federal Government has the final say in administration of old age pensions."

TOWN TOPICS

Saanich fire department extinguished a small fire in the dairy of McCree's Farm, Cedar Hill Road, at noon Wednesday. Damage was slight.

Earl Burnett and Charles West were remanded to Friday for sentence when they pleaded guilty in police court today to being in possession of two chairs, stolen from the Tudor House. Constable D. Blackstock said he apprehended the two men on King's Road at 11.15 Wednesday night and found the two chairs in their car.

Board Dissatisfied At Council Actions

Dissatisfaction at the lack of co-operation by the Saanich council on plans to relieve overcrowded conditions in schools were expressed by members of the Saanich School Board Wednesday night.

Inspector John Gough said it was the responsibility of the board to see children received the proper standard of education. He presented a plan whereby Mt. Tolmie and Mt. Douglas schools would be made combined senior and junior high schools. This change would put grades 7 to 12 in existing high schools and would take much of the pressure from the elementary schools. Cloverdale and Cedar Hill schools were mentioned especially.

The trustees agreed to the suggestion of the inspector and gave him authority to continue with his plans.

School expenditures during the past term, from September 1, 1941, to June 30, 1942, amounted to $86,255.76. The statement was presented by Dave McAdam, secretary.

Another industrial arts instructor will be employed. This new teacher will cover practically all of the Saanich school schools, assisting the teacher now employed.

Considerable time was spent discussing alterations and repairs necessary in all schools. Tenders were read and accepted for immediate work in Royal Oak and Mt. Douglas schools.

To Restrict Metal In House Furniture

OTTAWA (CP)—Metal may no longer be used in the manufacture of furniture parts without a permit in writing from the controller of supplies, Alan H. Williamson, it was announced today by the Department of Munitions and Supply.

Stamped pulls for doors and drawers, castors and small joining and fastening hardware are exempt. The order does not extend to the making of parts for spring-filled mattresses, upholstered and living-room furniture or studio couches where metal is used for springs or frame couches, beds, cribs, bed springs, filing cabinets, shelving, safes, lockers, or visible record equipment. These articles have been on a quota list since last Dec. 15 and their manufacture is under control.

Ready If Raiders Come

OTTAWA (CP)—The Parliament Buildings are prepared to meet an air raid any time. Small bags of sand, weighing 10 to 12 pounds each, have been placed at alcoves of halls throughout the building.

Expect Approval Of Housing Plan

Probability that the City Council late today would approve a revised agreement with War-time Housing Ltd., which would permit that firm to secure lots for 100 homes in the James Bay district for V.M.D. workers was seen in City Hall quarters today.

Mayor Andrew McGavin would neither confirm nor deny that outlook, but other sources anticipated settlement of the question in a manner to provide the sites for the dwellings.

Alderman W. L. Morgan, who also declined to commit himself, emphasized the fact he had never been against a housing scheme, but had objected to the type of house which ignored city improvement suggestions. Without making a definite statement he implied certain changes were expected in the specifications listed when the by-law to approve the property deal was killed.

"If we have been successful in improving the type of building our efforts have not been entirely unsuccessful," he said. "The council meeting today on the question was called for 4.30."

3 Charged With Theft of Auto

George Ballis and Conrad Barnabe, R.C.A.F., and George K. Gardner, a soldier, were charged in police court today with being in possession of a stolen car, the property of George Parsons, 1628 Chambers Street, and were remanded until Friday in order to consult their senior officers.

The three men were arrested early this morning, after the stolen car in which they were allegedly in possession overturned at the corner of Pandora and Douglas at 3.45 and caught fire.

According to city police, Ballis was extricated from the wrecked car after two other men had climbed out and escaped south on Douglas.

Later in the morning Constables D. Blackstock and William Elliott arrested Barnabe and Gardner. Barnabe was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, suffering a severed artery in his right hand.

'Commando' Star Arrives

Paul Muni, Farrow Here, Enthusiastic Over Film

Paul Muni, academy award winner who gave the picture-going world its interpretation of Zola and Paster, reached Victoria this afternoon for the filming of Lester Cowan's "The Commandos Come at Dawn," screen adaptation of C. S. Forester's story, to be released through Columbia Pictures Inc.

With him came Mrs. Muni, Lt. Cmdr. John Farrow, director, inviolated out of the navy after action in the south Atlantic, and Al Vaughan, press relations head for the film.

"You are going to get more and more picture people here," Mr. Muni, one of the most approachable celebrities who have visited Victoria, said. "The limitations placed on equipment and the difficulty of securing certain materials is forcing Hollywood to look for suitable outside sites for pictures which have been made indoors in recent years. Two years ago we made a film of an English village which was built entirely indoors. It is not possible to make sets like that now."

Mr. Muni expressed delight at coming here—it is his first visit—but raised his eyebrows at the drizzling rain which greeted him. "This lets me down," commented Lt. Cmdr. Farrow. "I said I've always wanted to shoot in British Columbia. Is this weather unusual?"

ZOLA, PASTEUR FAVORITES

Mr. Muni classes Zola and Pasteur as his two favorite roles. "It's a toss up between them," he said. "Both were happy experiences. The group was enthusiastic about the stories and we had the same unit which worked together compatibly."

He won the Academy Award for acting in Pasteur, but notes Zola was the picture itself which won a similar award as well as those from the New York Critics Guild.

Singers and comedians of international repute, backed by a 14-piece orchestra. Seamen's clubs throughout the country are co-operating in this endeavor to make the work of the men of the merchant navies better known to Canadians.

Students Enjoy Songs of Sea

When John Goss sings his rousing folk songs of the sea he captures his audience completely, teacher-students of Victoria's Summer School proved today as they applauded the artist at a forenoon concert.

Included in the group which won the warmest acclaim were "Lowlands, Away," arranged by R. R. Terry; "Pretty Caroline," by Cecil Sharp; "Beautiful Nancy," arranged by Gustav Holst; "The Captain's Apprentice," by Vaughan Williams, and "High Barbary," by Holst.

The artist opened his program with a description of the different periods of songs of England; touching particularly on the Elizabethan, 18th Century and Modern English.

Among his Elizabethan group Robert Jones' "What If I Speed," the anonymous "So Sweet Is She" and Tobias Hume's "Tobacco," were well received.

Thomas Augustine Arne's "Sigh No More, Ladies" was the favorite 18th century selection, while Peter Warlock's "Passing By" and "My Ghostly Fader," and Vaughan Williams' "The Water Mill," with its tempo of a whirling wheel, and "Cold Blows the Wind on Cotsall," were outstanding among the modern English.

Possessor of a true baritone, artistically used, Mr. Goss was particularly noted for his good diction, well-controlled use of tone and the sense of humor and drama he imparted to his selections.

Miss Elsa Disney accompanied the vocalist.

WANTED TO BLOW HIMSELF UP

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Joseph Beque of Qualicum is being held in Nanaimo jail while Magistrate C. H. Beevor-Potts considered a statement he made to police in which he said he tried to obtain powder with which to blow himself up by breaking into a logging camp powder house.

Police said Beque's statement claimed that he failed to blow himself up only because he could not find a fuse. He is charged with arson in connection with fire in two buildings here.

He gave himself up to police July 6 in connection with the arson charge.

He expressed enthusiasm over the Commando story to be produced here.

"I think a lot of the story. With a little luck we should make it a fine film. Of course, it will take co-operation on all sides," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Muni count themselves among the world's best commuters. They have been traveling between their Long Island home and Hollywood for the last 15 years. Mr. Muni's experience in pictures dates back to the days when talking pictures were regarded as a freak and companies speculated on their value.

He plans to keep up his commuting, making a picture in Hollywood and playing the legitimate stage on Broadway alternately.

HERE FOUR WEEKS

He expects to be in Victoria about four weeks during the filming of the production and is looking forward to the job with keen anticipation.

Lt. Cmdr. Farrow is free for picture work since being inviolated out of the navy. Sailing out of Halifax as a member of the R.C.N.V.R., he was on loan to the British navy when he "got his."

He came north from California to join the navy in 1939. "I asked for trouble and I got it," he remarked.

Highly impressed by this territory through previous visits, he plans to have his wife, Maureen O'Sullivan, join him with their child and a nurse as soon as he is settled here.

The director announced today Anna Lee, noted English actress, will take the feminine lead in the picture in the place of Merle Oberon. Other stars, including Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Lillian Gish, are due up in a few days.

WINNER OF D.F.M.—Pilot Officer Lawrence "Larry" Robillard, of Ottawa, who arrived home on leave, is the first French-Canadian to receive the Distinguished Flying Medal. He received the decoration from the King March 3, in recognition of his heroism in fighting off nine German planes that attacked his squadron. He is in his 22nd year.

Before Court In Cheque Case

Speedy trial of Jack Bolsy, alias H. R. Parsons, facing three charges of obtaining money by false pretenses through cashing worthless cheques, opened today before Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court and continued this afternoon.

By the luncheon adjournment H. W. R. Moore, appearing for the Crown, had completed prosecution evidence on the charge before the court. The accused, conducting his own defence, was scheduled to open his case this afternoon.

The action arises from cheques cashed in various locations in July last year. Originally four charges were laid. One has since been dropped.

Trial has been delayed in order to permit the accused to secure witnesses from Alberta.

Pay Official Visit

Lt. Gen. Kenneth Stuart, G.O.C.-in-chief, Pacific Command and chief of the Canadian General Staff, and Maj. Gen. A. E. Potts, G.O.C., 6th Division, who arrived here from the east Wednesday, today paid their respects to the provincial government.

They were received by Premier John Hart in his office in the Parliament Buildings.

4 Slot Machine Operators Fined

Three men and a woman were each fined $30 in city court today when convicted of operating common gaming houses on June 22.

Those fined were Albert Cole, proprietor of the Grand Spot News Stand; Bertha Halbersen, proprietor of the Douglas Cafe; Nicholas Hansen, proprietor of the Globe News Stand, and Richard Watson Clark, proprietor of a confectionery at 1543 Fort Street.

Constable David Shand of the criminal investigation branch of the B.C. police, who laid the information, testified in each case that a slot machine was being operated on the premises of the accused. He described each machine and said they were purely mechanical and the element of skill did not enter in their operation.

In passing sentence on each Magistrate H. C. Hall said he was satisfied the machines were games of chance.

Charges against Dexter Lewis and Willard P. Loughheed were withdrawn when Prosecutor C. L. Harrison stated that ownership of their premises had changed before the informations were laid. Stuart Henderson appeared for all the accused. Similar charges against Lee Gan, Lee Dat and Fred Richardson were remanded until Friday.

Ask Conciliation On Living Bonus

City employees other than school teachers and members of the outside staffs will apply for a board of conciliation on the cost of living bonus question, T. G. Harris, secretary of the Civic Employees' Federation of Greater Victoria, said today.

His statement followed counting of a ballot on the question which showed 177 in favor of seeking a conciliation hearing and 56 against that action.

By council resolution employees who are family heads or have dependents receive a bonus of $10 a month. Those without dependents are given $5.

The employees originally sought a cost of living bonus in line with federal regulations based on the cost of living index here. That would have meant approximately $16.25 for each employee.

The application for a conciliation board will go forward shortly to the provincial Department of Labor on behalf of City Hall employees, members of the police, fire, library and school board staffs other than teachers.

The outside staff recently withdrew from the federation and asked the City Council for permission to negotiate separately.

TAX EXEMPTION HINGES ON TITLE

Victoria can grant tax exemption on the Memorial Hall, projected home of the provincial Normal School here, only if the provincial government acquires title for the property, F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, and George A. Okell, city assessor-collector, said today.

The city is bound, the officials said, to tax the owners of property leased by the government in the same way that it would tax owners of premises used by the liquor control board, for example.

Any church building used exclusively for the purposes of public worship escapes taxation as long as it is used for that purpose only. Should it gain new use and become a commercial revenue source, the exemption clause lapses, Mr. Shaw explained.

He expressed hopes the provincial government would take formal title to the building for the duration, in order to avoid the legal technicalities which now stand in the way.

Both officials expressed the opinion the city would be most anxious to assist the province in any way in providing housing for the Normal School here.

New B.C. Companies

Following companies were incorporated at the Parliament Buildings during the week: Canning and Hunstone Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver; MacNaughton Canning Co. Ltd., $10,000, Osoyoos; Wright and Flinter Transport Ltd., $20,000, Vancouver; Highway Construction Co. Ltd., 100 shares N.P.V., Vancouver.

Port Alberni Residents' Co-operative Association was incorporated under the Co-operatives Act and the Beauty Shop Owners' Association of British Columbia under the Societies' Act.

Death Rate Up

Babes Starving In Nazi Europe

LONDON (CP)—A 40 per cent rise in infant mortality in Nazi-occupied Europe was reported today by the British Famine Relief Committee, a fact-finding organization of churches.

On the basis of first-hand reports, it likened the suffering from want of food in conquered and occupied areas as well as other embattled countries on the continent with the situation after four years of the first Great War. "There is increasing frequency of scurvy, rickets, anemia, dermatitis and eye infections," it said.

Here is a country-by-country resume of its reports:

NO BREAKFAST FOR MANY

Belgium: "A special survey with respect to children attending school indicates that 63 per cent get no or scarcely any breakfast, 33.5 per cent get insufficient supper."

It put the general death rate for adults and children so far, this year at 21.5 per 1,000—compared with a normal 13— and added "there is abundant reason to believe the health of several generations may be irretrievably impaired."

BIG LOSSES IN FRANCE

France: The committee quoted a Quaker report describing children with "distended stomachs and thin, spindly legs" and said the mortality rate in unoccupied France has risen 45 per cent. It cited the report of a French physician that the mortality of children up to nine years old in Nazi-occupied Paris has increased by 29 per cent.

Poland: Instead of a daily 2,400 calories necessary to maintain a healthy existence, food rations allowed to Poles provided them with no more than 680 calories and allowances for Jews yielded only 400. Citing bread as a typical example of food discrimination, the committee report said Germans get a weekly allowance of 4½ pounds, Poles 2½ and Jews 1.

DEATHS IN FINLAND

Finland: In Karelia, "70 per cent of the children under seven are dying of starvation." Its authority was John P. Thelen of the American Red Cross.

The Netherlands: The committee said 20 to 25 per cent of the children living in towns are undernourished and the adult population is near starvation.

Greece: Quoting what it called first-hand reports, the committee said: "From August until the end of March 320,000 deaths were registered in Greece, exceeding over five times the normal death rate and being higher among infants."

"On the other hand, births are being reduced to exceedingly low rates and of new-born children hardly any survive."

Roosevelt Sends Aide On Mission to China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lauchlin Currie, administrative assistant to President Roosevelt, has arrived in Chungking to consult on war problems with Gen. Chiang Kai-shek.

The White House, announcing his arrival, said he had gone by direction of the President.

Big Musical Hit

Showing at Atlas

Take Betty Grable's blonde loveliness, Vic Mature's appeal, Jack Oakie's inimitable brand of humor and set them in Technicolor against a background of South Sea romance and heaps of tip-top music, and you have the kind of grand screen entertainment to be found in 20th Century-Fox's "Song of the Islands," which opened at the Atlas Theatre today for an indefinite stay.

Assisting in the romantic doings are such stalwarts as Thomas Mitchell tangling cinematically with George Barbier; Billy Gilbert, in the hilarious role of an erstwhile cannibal; Hilo Hattie, major exponent of Hula 'live'; and Harry Owens and His Royal Hawaiians, ace interpreters of island music.

The story is fraught with romantic possibilities and paced for grand fun.

YORK—Deanna Durbin in "It Started With Eve."

'The Male Animal'

Opens Tomorrow

There are certainly no priorities on laughter as you're sure to find out when you go to the Capitol Theatre when Warner Bros.' howling hit, "The Male Animal," opens tomorrow. It has everything that makes for one grand comedy—gags, comic situations, breezy dialogue and plenty of romance. And what's more, it has the finest cast of this season's crop of laugh hits.

In the leading roles are lovely Olivia de Havilland as the wife of a college professor, and Henry Fonda as her husband, a fellow who is soft-spoken but firm. The film combines wild comedy with plausibility in a story of a professor who simply can't get excited about the coming "big game" and his wife who has too fond a memory of a certain former football hero.

Dominion to Show

Thrilling Drama

When Paramount's new thriller drama, "This Gun for Hire," reaches the screen of the Dominion Theatre tomorrow, it is likely that moviegoers will view it from the edge of their seats—it is that exciting!

Starring honey-haired Veronica Lake and personable Robert Preston, "This Gun for Hire" features in its impressive cast Laird Cregar and Alan Ladd, new screen discovery who first captured the fans' attentions with his appealing performance in "Joan of Paris." His portrayal of the killer who falls for Veronica Lake in "This Gun for Hire" has already started a wave of enthusiasm that should carry him right on up to stardom.

While Ladd chills the blood in his killer-role, it is periodically warmed again by the presence of fiery-eyed Veronica Lake, the "blonde bomber" who scored spectacularly in "I Wanted Wings" and then charmed us in a comedy role in "Sullivan's Travels."

Comedy Romance

In Rio Picture

Comedy, fast action and romance are the entertainment elements to be found in "Half a Sinner," now at the Rio Theatre.

Relating the thrilling adventures of a young school teacher who "borrows" an expensive car and discovers a dead gangster in the back seat, the film features such popular players as Heather Angel, John King, Constance Collier and Walter Catlett.

Al Christie, noted comedy director, piloted the production which is from a story by Dalton Trumbo of "Johnny Got His Gun" fame.

Two Academy Stars

In York Picture

Having Motion Picture Academy "Oscars" as proof of their artistry, co-stars Deanna Durbin and Charles Laughton of "It Started With Eve," are said to reach new heights as comedy stars in the Universal film opening today at the York Theatre.

Miss Durbin, winner of a special academy award in 1937, and Laughton, who captured an "Oscar" for his title role in "Henry VIII" in 1932, appear together for the first time in the new romantic comedy.

Deanna's nine previous films, particularly the five directed by Henry Kostler, have established her as an accomplished comedienne, as well as a romantic singing star. Laughton's "Ruggles of Red Gap" and other comedy portrayals have proved his ability in the comedy line.

NOVEL ROLE FOR STAR

In "It Started With Eve," Miss Durbin is seen as a hatcheck girl who is introduced into a New York multi-millionaire's home as his son's fiancée. As the elderly industrialist, Laughton has essentially a comedy role, but it is also a characterization said to be comparable in artistic fitness to his "Captain Bligh" and other triumphs.

Dorothy Dix: Fifteen-year-old Girl Insists On Stepping Out

Dear Miss Dix: We have a daughter just past her fifteenth birthday who has suddenly assumed the young lady attitude, an overnight transformation from adolescence to maturity, and in this short period she has begun to associate with a young boy about 17; wants to date this boy regularly.

We do not know how to handle the situation and desire to lay down an established rule dealing with our daughter's social life. Can you furnish us with such rules? At what age should a young girl have dates? How can a girl of 15 be discouraged from associating with one boy only? How often and under what circumstances should she be permitted to have dates? At what age is a young girl considered on her own?

Our daughter has two more years of high school.

A BEWILDERED FATHER.

Answer: There is nothing peculiar in your problem. Your daughter is just running true to form. All girls seem to suddenly turn from children into women, and it is always a surprise to their parents who thought Mamie or Susie would go on being a little girl indefinitely.

DON'T TRY HEAVY FATHER ACT

It is a situation to which you have to reconcile yourself, and it is one that must be handled with tact if you want to keep close to your daughter and be in a position to really influence and guide her. For if you try to do the heavy father act and to make her obey you, as if she were still a little child, and if you allow her no more liberty than she had when she was five years old, all you will do will be to make her deceive you and shut you out of her confidence.

One thing that is important for you to remember is that we have speeded up life as well as we have manufactures, and that a girl of 15 is really as worldly wise and mature as her mother was when she got married. Another thing you must remember is that youth has fought for freedom and won the battle, and that you have to give children much more liberty than you had when you were a boy.

It is impossible to lay down any hard and fast rules for regulating a girl's social life, because circumstances alter cases and what might be the wrong thing to do at one time may be the right thing to do at another time. So I can only give you suggestions.

I would advise you to accept without comment or protest the fact that your daughter is old enough to step out a little and have dates. But as long as she is in school that she is only to have these privileges during the week-end. No boys, no parties during the week and she should be home at a reasonable hour, not later than eleven or twelve o'clock unless there is some especially big occasion.

Encourage her to have her boy friends come to the house. That gives her the protection of a background and enables you to get acquainted with the lads and see if they are fit company for her. Tell her that if she just narrows herself down to going with one boy it looks as if she didn't have glamour and wasn't able to attract other boys. Make her seem socially poor. If you get what I mean. Tell her to run around with a lot of boys. Give them all the once-over. And make her understand that nothing makes a girl so desirable in a boy's eyes as for all the other boys to be keen to have dates with her.

No girl is on her own until she is self-supporting.

A QUITTER ON TWO COUNTS

Dear Miss Dix: I have a son by my first marriage who is serving in the army somewhere in the British Isles. He has sent me three cables since he has been "over there" and naturally I would like to answer them, but my second husband constantly refuses to give me the money to even answer one of them. I would also like to send my boy a box of candy or a few cigarettes, but he refuses me the money for that also.

If my husband was poor, I would not expect him to give me anything. But he isn't. He makes a grand salary and is lavish in giving to his own family, but nothing to me or mine. I told him last night that I wanted to hire someone to keep our baby and do the housework so that I could get a job in order to have some money of my own, but he wouldn't hear of it. He said: "If you go to work, then I'll be drafted." What can I do?

A HEARTSICK MOTHER.

Answer: Your husband seems to be as anxious to evade his duty to you as he is to his country. He is a quitter on both counts. He wants you to slave doing the work of two servants in cooking and washing and scrubbing and penny-pinching and baby tending for him, without ever giving you a cent for your labor. And he wants another man to go out and fight to defend his country and his freedom and his way of living, while he sits safe at home. And he isn't willing to contribute to the comfort and happiness of the soldier who takes his place on the firing line.

If there is one figure in the world just now to whom public sympathy goes out, it is the mother whose son has gone forth to fight his country's battles. He has gone where only her love and prayers can follow him, into far countries, she knows not where; confronting dangers that her imagination magnifies. Whether he will ever come back to her, she cannot know, and her only comfort is in trying to keep in touch with him by means of the cable and the mail, and by sending him an occasional little gift that will be dear to him because it is a tangible expression of his mother's tenderness.

That any man could be stingy enough to refuse to give a mother the few cents that it would take to send a message to her soldier son overseas, passes belief. When a man refuses that small sum to his wife he makes work without wages, it entitles him to the mean man's medal.

Huge Bells Have Been Cast in Several Countries

Dozens of kinds of metal and metal alloys have been used in making bells. These include bronze, iron, silver and gold. Some glass bells, with pleasing tones, have been produced.

The largest bell in all history is the Great Bell of Moscow. It was first cast in 1633 and later was recast. The weight has been estimated between 193 and 198 tons. A big chunk was broken from it before it could be hung. Instead of being used as a bell, it was turned into a kind of chapel, with the door where the chunk had been broken away.

(For general interest section of your scrapbook.)

Statistics show that one out of every 15 families in this country is dependent upon the dairy industry for its livelihood.

Blood contains 80 per cent of the iron found in the human body.

LONDON (CP)—A Czech government spokesman here said today the Gestapo is continuing to arrest hundreds of persons in Bohemia and Moravia in its purge following the slaying of Reinhard Heydrich. "The Nazis have executed many more than the 1,350 they have announced," he said, "but we do not know the exact figure."

'Fraud Upon People,' Says Col. Drew

Mr. King Will Not Table Letter On Hongkong Probe

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons Wednesday that he would not table in the House the letter sent him by Lt.-Col. George A. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, criticizing the report of the Duff Royal Commission on the Hongkong inquiry.

Mr. King said the letter would not be tabled because it was a violation of the order of secrecy under which the proceedings of the royal commission inquiring into the Hongkong expedition were conducted.

Mr. King said that before receding to the request of M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. House leader, for tabling the Drew letter he had decided to get legal opinion as to whether it would be proper for him to do so.

Through the justice department he had obtained an opinion from George S. Campbell of Montreal, government counsel at the inquiry conducted by Sir Lyman P. Duff, Chief Justice of Canada.

Mr. King read the opinion of the House.

Mr. Campbell's conclusions were summarized in two paragraphs of his letter to the Prime Minister, as follows:

Drew's reference Not in Public Report

"If... Mr. Drew's communication is tabled by you before the House of Commons, I am of the opinion that you will be violating a condition under which the government of the United Kingdom consented to the disclosure to the commissioner and counsel of these telegrams (referred to by Mr. Drew in his letter)."

"I am, moreover, of the opinion that Mr. Drew's communication purports to contain a considerable number of extracts from evidence and references to exhibits which do not appear in the published report of the commissioner and the appendix to it. If, therefore, you should table the document you are, in my opinion, to that extent participating in and thereby condoning a violation of the order of secrecy with which the proceedings in camera were to be and were in fact conducted."

Mr. King read communications exchanged Wednesday between Mr. Campbell and Sir Lyman Duff, in which the latter authorized production of a statement he had made at the opening of the inquiry requiring all participants of the inquiry to keep proceedings secret.

"In these circumstances I hope my honorable friend will not expect me to table the letter because I do not think it is proper for me to do so in my position as Prime Minister," said Mr. King.

Mr. Campbell's letter said the letter from Col. Drew—who was named a commission counsel on nomination of Conservative House Leader Hanson—"purports to disclose a very considerable number of facts and to refer to the contents of several documents said to have been put in evidence before the commissioner during the recent inquiry."

Mr. Campbell said he was "not free to discuss the accuracy or inaccuracy of any such references."

At the outset of the inquiry, he said, the commissioner had been given various powers, "including specifically the power and authority of making and enforcing any order made by him concerning any inquiry held in camera in order to safeguard the secrecy of such inquiry."

He had heard the publication of the letter had been suppressed.

Mr. Coldwell, the C.C.F. House leader, said he had taken the responsibility Wednesday of asking

Secrecy Ordered By Commissioner

The inquiry was held in camera at the order of the commissioner. "In my opinion," said Mr. Campbell, "all counsel who participated in the inquiry were bound by, and by their continued presence, acquiesced in that ruling."

"Any disclosure, therefore, even to the House of Commons, would in my opinion be a violation of the substance of that condition."

Mr. Hanson, rising when Mr. King had concluded, said the order-in-council just read by the Prime Minister had never been drawn to his attention. It had been kept secret. It should never have been passed since the promise had been made that there would be a full public argument.

He had asked that the inquiry evidence be placed on the table so the public and the House would be in a position to judge on the accuracy or otherwise of the report.

Report Not Immune Under Inquiries Act

Under the Inquiries Act the report was not immune from criticism or discussion.

There was ample precedent for discussion and criticism of such a report, said Mr. Hanson.

Mr. Hanson said the Duff report was not "sacrosanct" and was in no other category than a court judgment. The evidence of the inquiry should be tabled.

"It is in the public interest, that this evidence should be laid upon the table," Mr. Hanson said. "Without that evidence any discussion will be wholly unsatisfactory to the members and the public."

Mr. Hanson recalled that Mr. King had first said he would table the letter if any member would take the responsibility of asking that it be tabled.

"Now a second thought has occasioned a reversal of opinion," said Mr. Hanson. "In the meantime, I am informed, the press agencies have carried large portions of it not all of the letter, and all that remains is to release it for publication."

He urged the Prime Minister, whether he tabled the letter or not, to release any censorship that prevented its publication.

"Let this letter be published and let the chips fall where they may," Mr. Hanson said.

Hundreds Know Letter's Contents

Hundreds of people now knew what was in the letter.

"If Col. Drew was transgressed let him answer for it," Mr. Hanson said. "He will answer, and welcome the opportunity."

"He will welcome the publicity," a Liberal member interjected.

"Yes, he will welcome the publicity this gets," said Mr. Hanson. "This publicity has made him the biggest man in the public life of Canada today."

"Next leader of the Conservative Party?" a member asked.

"Well, you might go farther and fare worse," Mr. Hanson replied.

"Let us have a free press," the Conservative House leader continued.

He had heard the publication of the letter had been suppressed.

that the letter be tabled since he believed there was nothing in it of value to the enemy. His copy had come to him in the usual way through the mail and was not marked private or personal.

Today the Prime Minister had shown him the legal opinion he had received from Mr. Campbell.

"I am not a lawyer and I can't dispute a legal opinion," said Mr. Coldwell.

The Prime Minister must take the responsibility of withholding the letter on the advice of counsel.

Mr. Coldwell said he had no quarrel with Mr. King if he decided to withhold the letter on that basis, but in his own opinion there was nothing in the document which would help the enemy. He said the Prime Minister would have been better advised had he sought an opinion on tabling the letter from some one not interested in the inquiry.

Parents Disturbed, Says Coldwell

The C.C.F. House leader said he represented a western constituency from which young men had gone with the units sent to Hongkong. Their parents were disturbed, and the parents of other men who might be moved overseas were also worried by the fear there might be a repetition of Hongkong expedition occurrences in the future.

New Democracy Leader Blackmore said matters raised in the Drew letter should be discussed in the House. He could not say whether they should be discussed in open session, but there were revelations of which the House should be made aware.

There was something wrong and those responsible should be punished should they be found at fault for blundering in respect to the expedition.

Defence Minister Ralston, the next speaker, said some remarks made in the discussion were premature. There seemed to be an assumption there would be no opportunity to discuss the report, but discussion would be allowed.

As Defence Minister he was perfectly happy to have the report fully discussed.

House Applauds As Duff Defended

"After all, he (the commissioner) is the Chief Justice of Canada, with a reputation second to none among the jurists of this continent," said Col. Ralston. The House applauded.

Col. Ralston said he deprecated any suggestion that there should be any distinction between Sir Lyman Duff as Chief Justice of Canada and as a Royal Commissioner, or that his calibre would be different in one role or another.

There would be full opportunity for House discussion of the report, but members should not "get out of focus because a gentleman who happened to be counsel and does not like the decision has written a letter to the Prime Minister."

Col. Ralston read an editorial from the Toronto Globe and Mail which stated that under the circumstances it was "imperative" that the Hongkong inquiry be held in secret.

J. S. Roy (Ind., Gaspe, Que.) said parents of volunteers in Gaspe were apprehensive about this incident and he urged the House meet in secret for a discussion, with the evidence disclosed to the members.

Mr. King closed the discussion and observed that the secrecy of the inquiry had been left entirely to the Chief Justice to decide upon.

With regard to the letter he felt, as Prime Minister, a special responsibility respecting any attack or insinuation that might be made upon the judiciary.

TORONTO (CP)—Lieut.-Col. George A. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, in a statement commenting on Prime Minister Mackenzie King's announcement and explanatory statement, said: "It would be a fraud upon the people of Canada, who have paid for this (Hongkong) inquiry and for whose benefit it was held, if they were denied the facts on the wholly unsupported and utterly unfounded statement that disclosure of the truth would help the enemy."

More Married Men To Be Drafted in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States Secretary of War Henry Stimson expressed his belief today that young married men and youths of 18 to 20 would have to be drafted for the armed forces before a victory over the Axis is won.

Asked at his press conference whether the War Department still believed these men would be needed for the army, Stimson replied that "we have never had a great war in which we did not find it necessary to call up both these classes."

He reminded reporters that some young married men already were being drafted under the selective service law, and said also he believed it would be necessary eventually to lower the draft age to 18.

"However," he said, "young

Secret Debate On Ship Losses

LONDON (CP)—The House of Commons went into secret session today and discussed war shipping losses after the government had declined to reconsider its refusal to authorize a public debate.

A suggestion of Leslie Hore-Belisha, National Liberal member and former War Secretary, that the government hold an open sitting was parried by Sir Stafford Cripps, Lord Privy Seal.

Sir Stafford announced that no summary of the debate would be published, but that members might communicate to their constituents "the general impression created on their minds."

men in that group should not feel it necessary to alter their plans for the immediate future."

Two Victoria Boys in German Prison Camp

These Canadian prisoners of war, mostly airmen, are shown in the German prison camp, Stalag VIII B, located near Dresden, Saxony. Among them are two Victoria boys, who at one time were reported missing. In the third row, marked by a cross, is Pte. Sgt. Sidney T. Fisher, son of Mrs. J. J. Stewart, 73 Moss Street. Marked by a cross in the back row is Bill Shorrock, whose parents reside at Royal Oak. Sgt. Fisher was shot down on a raid over Hamburg, Germany, Sept. 15, 1941, and sent the picture to his mother.
